COMPROMISE IS ONLY SOLUTION

CONFEREES ON CURRENCY BILL LIKELY TO AGREE.

REPORT IS EXPECTED TODAY

ACTION OF CONGRESS CANNOT BE FORETOLD.

HOUSE MAJORITY IS IN LINE?

Cannon Confident That Compromise Measure Can Be Passed in Lower House, in One Hour's Time. Weeks May Be Required to Settle Question.

WASHINGTON, May 26.—The Senate and House conferees on the currency bills held three meetings today and at the third, which did not adjourn until 6:30 o'clock reported a tentative agreement on which will be based the compromise agreement, which the Republican members of the conference hope to reach at an adjourned meeting tomorrow forenoon.

At the conclusion of the final meeting tonight the probability of the reporting of a compromise bill to the two houses of Congress was much stronger than at any previous time this session. Indeed, it was considered a certainty.

Following are the main points of the understanding that had been reached:

Reserve Provisions Changed.

The reserve provisions in the Vreeland bill, calling for retention of 25 per cent in central reserve cities and 15 per cent in other reserve cities is reduced to a straight 10 per cent reserve without reference to classification of cities.

A higher rating is given to state and municipal bonds than to other securities upon which emergency currency may be taken out by banks, that is to say, county, state and municipal bonds will be valued at not to exceed 90 per cent of their market value and all other bonds at not to exceed 70 per cent of their market value, both without regard to whether they are offered as security for additional circulation under the national clearing house plan or under the individual bank bond security plan.

The amount of circulation issuable upon a commercial paper basis is limited to 40 per cent of the capital of the applicant blank, instead of 100 per cent as provided in the Vreeland bill.

The redemption fund requirement of 5 per cent under the present law is increased to 10 per cent for all emergency currency taken out.

The total amount of emergency currency issuable is confined within a maximum of $500,000,000 as provided by the Aldrich bill.

A time limit of three years is placed upon the life of the bill.

Details Yet to Be Worked Out.

In this preliminary and purely tentative welding of the Aldrich and Vreeland bills into a modified measure, comprising the principal features of each and making it possible to obtain an emergency currency under two distinct and radically different forms of application and security, several of the minor details of financial machinery are not yet fully settled. They will be taken up for consideration and disposed when it has become a settled fact that a bill is to be reported by the conferees. Meantime, the working draft of the compromise bill as outlined in the foregoing paragraphs, will be printed tonight at the government printing office, so that the Republican conferees may have the text before them when they meet at 9:30 tomorrow morning to decide upon the attitude they will take and maintain in the full conference to be held immediately afterward and in which the Democratic members of the conference will for the first time participate.

If a bill is reported out of the conference tomorrow it will be passed by the House tomorrow. Notices were sent out tonight by order of Speaker Cannon for every Republican member to be in his seat at 11 o'clock, when it is expected the compromise bill will be reported.

Majority Lined Up.

Intimates of Speaker Cannon asserted today that in the event that a bill along the lines of the proposed compromise is brought in, it could be passed by the House after an hour's debate. This remark is interpreted to mean that the Republican majority of the House is prepared to accept whatever the conferees may recommend, but it is not believed that the Democrats of the House will be denied the privilege of some expression of their views.

The conditions are so different in the Senate that another situation may be encountered there. Still, today's developments have been such as to justify the statement that the bills will not be held up in the Senate for so long a time as seemed probable when the compromise first began to receive attention. Then the fear was that the measure might be talked to death.

Strenuous representation as to the possible effect on business of a failure by Congress to enact financial legislation before adjournment has had the effect of causing several Democratic senators to agree not to discuss the bill at length in case it is reported. Republican senators have been active

BAILEY WINS IN TEXAS

Ticket Headed by Senator for Delegate-at-Large Leads.

FORT WORTH, Tex., May 26.—The state Democratic convention to select 36 delegates to the national Democratic convention at Denver assembled here today.

The state executive committee canvassed and promulgated the returns of the vote cast in the primary election held on May 16. The result showed a majority of 22,954 for the ticket headed by Senator Bailey for delegate-at-large. The state committee recommended as temporary officers a full set from supporters of Senator Bailey. Will Poindexter of Cleburne, was selected as temporary chairman. His speech was laudatory of Senator Bailey and William J. Bryan and evoked intense applause. The convention recessed until tomorrow.

The platform as prepared by the committee will instruct for Bryan.

EVELYN CHANGES MIND

DOESN'T DESIRE ANNULMENT OF MARRIAGE.

Withdraws the Suit Instituted Some Time Ago, and Case Is Declared Discontinued.

NEW YORK, May 26.—Evelyn Nesbit Thaw, through her counsel, today withdrew the suit which she instituted some time ago for the annulment of her marriage to Harry K. Thaw. The motion for withdrawal was sanctioned by Referee Deyo, who had been appointed by the court to take testimony in the proceedings, and the case was declared discontinued without costs to either party to the suit. Immediately following the dismissal of the action Daniel O'Reilly, private counsel for Mrs. Thaw, issued a statement in which he declared that Mrs. Thaw had been an unwilling party to the proceedings from the first. It was because of the pressure on the part of her husband's relatives that she had any part in such a proceeding, said Mr. O'Reilly, and that she withdrew the action because she believes her husband's present position demands her loyalty.

"There has been much misrepresentation as to Mrs. Evelyn Nesbit Thaw's action in first bringing an application for an annulment and then subsequently discontinuing the same," said the statement. "Mrs. Thaw reluctantly made such application in response to pressure brought by relatives of her husband; she withdraws from the action at this time because she believes her husband's present situation demands from her a loyalty to his interest, and that it would not serve any good purpose to prove at a time when he is attempting to gain his liberty that he was insane when he married her. Especially is this true in the light of the unfortunate conclusions of the last proceedings."

Mr. O'Reilly declined to give the name of the relative who had brought pressure to bear on her to institute the proceedings for the annulment of the marriage.

Mr. O'Reilly was quoted today as saying there had been no reconciliation between Harry K. Thaw and his wife, and that Mrs. Evelyn Thaw wanted none. He added that Mrs. Evelyn Thaw thought she had a right to some financial recompense for the sacrifice she had made in Thaw's behalf. Mr. O'Reilly said that some step of that kind might be taken, but he would not

SEATTLE HAS HOLIDAY

THREE THOUSAND BLUEJACKETS PARADE STREETS.

Accompanied by Land Force of Coast Artillery and Infantry From Neighboring Forts.

SEATTLE, Wash., May 26.—Rear Admiral Sperry, commanding the Atlantic battleship fleet, landed this forenoon an armed force of 3,000 men who made a Seattle holiday by parading through the streets of the city. The fighters of the sea were accompanied by a land force of coast artillery and infantry from the neighboring forts of Lawton, Worden, Flagler and Casey and local militia and civic societies.

The pomp of marching men caused a thrill of patriotic fervor to course through the arteries of 400,000 people who, though peace loving, were filled with admiration at the display of the fighting strength of their common country.

Following a platoon of police were the coast artillery from Fort Lawton, under command of Colonel Albert S. Cummins, forming the first division of the parade. The second division was made up of marines and sailors, under command of Captain W. H. Potter, United States navy. The third division was formed of local militia companies commanded by Major John Stringer. The fourth division consisted of fraternal orders under the direction of General E. P. Edeson.

A diversion was made in the middle of the parade by 12 bear cubs brought from the city of Aberdeen to be presented as mascots to the battleships. Each bear was led by a prominent citizen of Aberdeen and the antics of the cubs called forth much laughter. Before the reviewing stand was reached the little fellows became too tired to walk and their conductors took them in their arms and carried them past the stand.

Immense baskets of rhododendrons, the flower of the state of Washington, had been provided for a floral greeting to the sailors and soldiers

JEROME SUMS UP OWN CASE

DEFINES HIS POSITION BEFORE HIS ACCUSERS.

"FLIMSY AND MENDACIOUS"

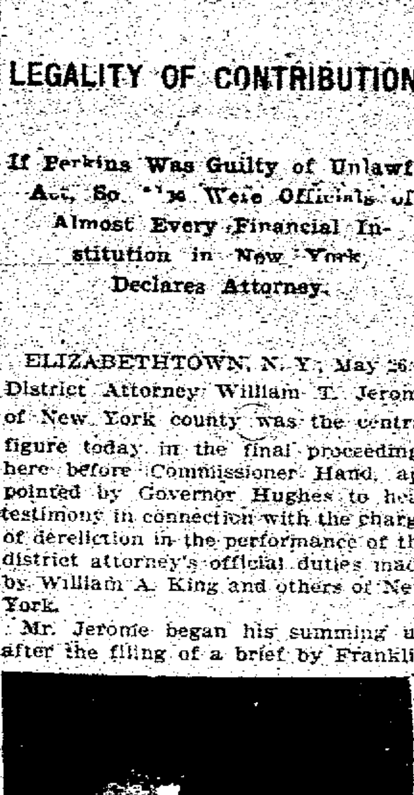

PROCEEDINGS DENOUNCED IN NO UNCERTAIN TERMS.

LEGALITY OF CONTRIBUTIONS

If Perkins Was Guilty of Unlawful Act, So [illegible] Were Officials of Almost Every Financial Institution in New York, Declares Attorney.

ELIZABETHTOWN, N. Y., May 26.—District Attorney William T. Jerome of New York county was the central figure today in the final proceedings here before Commissioner Hand, appointed by Governor Hughes to hear testimony in connection with the charge of dereliction in the performance of the district attorney's official duties made by William A. King and others of New York.

Mr. Jerome began his summing up after the filing of a brief by Franklin

DISTRICT ATTORNEY JEROME.

Pierce, attorney for the complainants. The district attorney presented no brief in his own behalf, but it is understood he will file one for Commissioner Hand's personal use at the end of the hearing.

Mr. Jerome launched into a lengthy analysis of the motives in his belief, which animated those most active in bringing and pressing the charges against him. He supported his contention that the proceedings were "flimsy and mendacious" by asking the commissioner to note one thing, complaint had not been verified, "not even on information and belief."

Elected to Do as He Pleased.

"I have lived all my life in the city of New York," said Mr. Jerome, "and the 16 best years of my life there were given to the public service. Twice I have run for office in that city and have been elected; the last time against every political party and all alone; and I consider that I was elected to exercise my judgment in the discharge of the duties of that office and not the judgment of irresponsible editors of yellow journals and what they might say I ought to do."

"I consider," continued Mr. Jerome, "that the duties that were laid upon me in that office and which I have striven to discharge were these: To be fair and just, to apply one law to all persons, not apply one law to the poor man and another to the rich man. I have stood under great pressure before a grand jury room as a southern sheriff has often stood before a southern jail when he knows that the prisoner within is guilty and worthy of punishment, but will only allow him to be punished as the law provides."

Political Contribution.

Regarding the charge that he had refused to advise the grand jury to indict George W. Perkins in the so-called $50,000 political contribution case, Mr. Jerome said:

"It was perfectly plain that Bryan's election would have been followed by a shrinkage in the value of the securities of the New York Life Insurance company of say 10 or 12 per cent so that with $450,000,000 of securities this contribution by Mr. Perkins was a shrewd business move, even if it were illegal. But was it illegal? Moreover, there was abundant evidence that the officials of almost every financial institution in New York city had contributed to the Republican party committee to help defeat Bryan, so that if Perkins was guilty then I had my work cut out for me good and plenty for a year or more ahead."

NORTH CAROLINA PROHIBITION

RALEIGH, N. C., May 26.—North Carolina was carried for state prohibition today by a majority that is estimated at from 40,000 to 42,000 on reports and estimates received up to midnight.

The Prohibition ticket was carried in 78 out of the 98 counties by majorities approximately of 48,500. The anti-Prohibition ticket has 20 counties by majorities approximating 5,600. This calculation is partly based on estimates, and the Prohibition leaders say that it is possible for the Prohibition majority to reach 50,000.

The election passed off quietly, no disturbance of any moment being reported.

NO REPORT ON WOOD PULP?

Committee Holds Session Lasting Greater Part of Night.

WASHINGTON, May 26.—The special committee of the House which has been investigating the wood pulp and print paper controversy was in session practically all night tonight. The members of the committee are working to compile a statement of facts heard during the inquiry and the question of a report has not yet been considered. Another meeting will be held tomorrow.

While the members of the committee are making every effort to complete their work, it was apparent tonight that the prospects for a report at this session of Congress were not as bright as they were 24 hours ago.

HYDRO PLANT CRIPPLED

SPRINGS ELECTRIC COMPANY TAXED TO LIMIT.

Water Shortage Brings About Peculiar Situation—Parts of District Without Lights.

The big Manitou plant of the Pikes Peak Hydro-Electric company is practically shut down as a result of the water situation, and circuits of street arc lights in many parts of Colorado Springs and vicinity were shut off last night as a consequence. The Hydro company's Manitou plant, which has a capacity of 6,000 kilowatts and has been running from 4,000 kilowatts up to its limit, is now carrying only 400 kilowatts, or less than one-tenth its usual power. The Colorado Springs Electric company's plant northeast of this city is running all three engines day and night and is being taxed to its utmost in the attempt to carry the load thus shifted to it. Arc lights at Broadmoor, in parts of Colorado City and in the northwest part of Colorado Springs were out last night.

Unusual Situation.

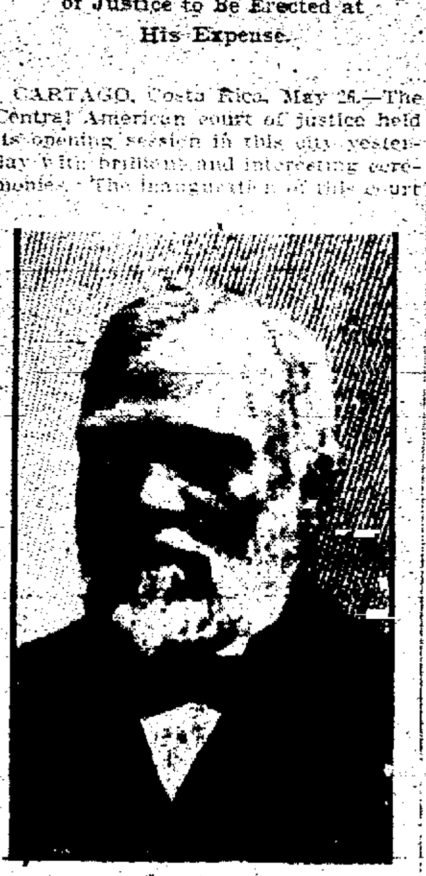

The situation is peculiar. The Hydro company is supposed to use part of the city water in its passage from the big mountain reservoirs to the intermediate reservoirs on the mesa. The Mesa reservoirs, which hold only a few million gallons of water and are used as equalizers, are full and the water department of the city has so restricted lawn sprinkling in its effort to conserve the depleted supply that comparatively little water is used by the consumers. If the city allowed the Hydro company to use water from the big mountain reservoirs the supply, when turned back into the city's pipes at the Mesa intermediate reservoirs, would be wasted, since the small reservoirs are already full and would overflow. The water departments has therefore given orders from day to day regulating the amount of water to be turned into the Hydro pipes. The Hydro's plant has been strained to furnish the requisite amount of power for several days, and the pinch came yesterday, when the water department again cut the supply to such an extent that the Manitou plant is turning out only nominal power.

PRESIDENT IS APPEALED TO

IS ASKED TO SIGN A PROHIBITIVE TREATY.

METHODISTS CHOOSE BISHOPS

Majority of Work of Conference Is Now Completed—Filling of Places of Minor Importance Yet to Be Taken Up—Heated Contests Expected.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., May 26.—Commending organizations which are working against the traffic in white slaves and calling upon President Roosevelt and the government to unite with other nations in suppressing this increasing evil by signing the treaty in effect between many other countries, a resolution introduced by the Rev. M. P. Boynton of Chicago was unanimously passed by the Northern Baptist convention today. It says:

"Whereas, The traffic in womanhood and girls, commonly called the white slave traffic, is increasingly active in our large cities, proof of which is seen in the conviction and imprisonment of many persons for the crime of luring young women to the cities by promises of employment only to sell them to houses of shame, where in many cases, they are held in helpless and hopeless slavery, and,

Nation Awakening to Dread Evil.

"Whereas, Our nation is awakening to this dread evil and organizations are forming in various places, viz., the National Vigilance committee, with headquarters in Baltimore, Md., and the Illinois Vigilance association, with headquarters in Chicago, therefore, be it

"Resolved by the National Baptist convention in annual session at Oklahoma City, Okla.:

"1. That we commend such organizations as purpose the destruction of this unspeakable business.

"2. That we most respectfully urge upon President Roosevelt the high duty and desirability of our government uniting with other nations to suppress this traffic by agreeing to the treaty already signed by every civilized government but ours, which unites christendom in the effort to abolish this traffic in its international phases.

"3. That we encourage parents, pastors, teachers and editors to instruct the youth of our land in the sacred laws of life and health so that the rising generation may walk in the light of self-knowledge and the liberty wherewith the truth makes free.

"4. That we suggest to the various state conventions' action similar to this that the churches may have added emphasis on the need of a constant warfare against this foe, which threatens the ruin of the boys and girls of our beloved land.

"5. That we ask our commission on special service to give this question special attention in its investigations during the ensuing year and report its findings and recommendations to the convention next year."

Antisaloon League Indorsed.

Other resolutions indorse the work of the Antisaloon league and condemn the greed that demands child labor.

Distribution of $1,500,000 to carry on religious work during the year, April 1, 1908, to March 31, 1909, was provided for by the adoption of the executive committee's report tonight approving the following budget:

For current expenses—For American Baptist Publication society, $105,000; for American Baptist Home Mission, $442,000; for American Baptist Missionary union, $562,000. Total, $1,047,000.

For payment of indebtedness—For American Baptist Publication society, $30,000; for American Baptist Home Mission society, $96,000; for American Baptist Missionary union, $158,000. Total, $284,000. For working capital for these societies, $169,000, making a total of $1,500,000.

F. P. Haggard, H. L. Morehouse, A. J. Rowland, W. C. Bitting, George C. Whitney, D. G. Garabrandt and Ernest L. Tustin were appointed a committee to apportion this $1,500,000 among the states represented in the Northern Baptist convention.

The convention adjourns tomorrow night.

KOREAN CROWN PRINCE

Accompanied by Prince Ito, Will Visit United States.

VICTORIA, B. C., May 26.—A report is current in Japan, according to Japanese newspapers received here, that the Korean crown prince, accompanied by Prince Ito, will shortly leave Japan to tour the United States.

Marquis Ikeda Nakahiro, a prominent Japanese nobleman, accompanied by a suite, will arrive by the steamer Shinano Maru tomorrow on a tour of the United States and Europe.

Advices from Japan tell of a strike of Buddhist priests at a large Kobe temple. The trouble arose over the refusal of a large band of students and neophytes to make the usual rounds of the city to beg for alms. The abbot endeavored to have the priests take their places and a strike ensued.

DISCORD MARS SESSION

PRESBYTERIANS INDULGE IN HEATED DISCUSSION.

Committee on Administrative Agencies Vested With Too Much Power, Contention of Minority.

KANSAS CITY, May 26.—Discord entered for the first time into the proceedings of the general assembly of the Presbyterian church in the United States of America today, while the report of the committee on administrative agencies was under consideration. It was apparent during the heated discussion of the report that there is in the general assembly a strong sentiment in favor of reorganizing the administrative agencies of the church by changing the personnel of this important committee, although a motion to that effect was defeated. It was declared that too much power was given to the 21 members of the committee and that no officer of any board of the church except the moderator should belong to the administrative agencies committee.

During discussion of the report of the committee on colleges, the speakers expressed dissatisfaction that the Bible and Christianity are not given more prominent places by the grammar schools of the country. One speaker cited an instance of objection being raised to the singing of Christmas carols in a public school.

Dr. Wm. McKibbin of Cincinnati, said that college teachers must be men of the right character. "I do not subscribe to the belief that there is any affinity between learning and impiety," he said. He said there was a university instructor in Cincinnati "who teaches philosophy in the class room and free love outside."

"We do not want that kind of men in our colleges," he said.

Dr. McKibbin said he only had kind words for the state universities, as many of them were under the control of Christian men. "But we must stand by the Christian college," he said, "and we will force the state university to impress the students with a Christian life."

Dr. Mark A. Matthews of Seattle, urged the members of the church to send their boys and girls to the Presbyterian colleges. He insisted that the colleges had the right to demand the money and students from the church members necessary for their support.

Seattle, Denver and Oklahoma City have entered the campaign for next year's assembly and Seattle seems to be favored by most of the commissioners.

14 PERSONS DROWNED

FLOOD IN OKLAHOMA CLAIMS MORE VICTIMS.

Not a Railway Wheel Is Moving at Fort Worth, Tex.—Efforts Directed to Saving Bridges.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., May 26.—A special from Colbert, Okla., near the Texas line, says that 14 persons who had taken refuge on an island formed between the new and old channels of Red river, were drowned late today when the flood waters covered the place where they had taken refuge. Although weighted down by a train of ballast, the M. K. & T. railroad bridge went out at 2 o'clock last night. The river is over three miles wide and is cutting a new channel around the town.

Three children of J. H. Roberts, ferryman, were carried to death when the river swept away a tree in which they had taken refuge, south of Lawton. Will and Newt Stidham were drowned near Henrietta while attempting to leave their home in a skiff.

FORT WORTH, Tex., May 26.—In the grip of the most remarkable flood which swept down Trinity river at this point, not a railway wheel is moving nor is any effort being made. Every energy of railway officials is being bent toward saving bridges in the vicinity of Fort Worth. Trinity river sweeps in a great arc around Fort Worth, surrounding the town on three sides. Across it there are dozens of railway bridges and today none of them is considered safe for traffic. The waters show no disposition to recede and every hour piles up the damage. Hundreds of cottages and humble homes in the lowlands along the river are yielding to the greed of the flood and are floating down stream, carrying the whole fortunes of the unhappy owners. There was no loss of life today.

SENATE SPENDS THE DAY IDLING

NOTHING OF IMPORTANCE IS ACCOMPLISHED.

FILIBUSTER IS UNNECESSARY

SESSION HELD IN HOPE OF REPORT ON CURRENCY.

HOUSE LEADERS AGAIN CLASH

Each Charges the Other With Responsibility for the Conditions at Present in That Body—Considerable Business Is Finally Transacted.

WASHINGTON, May 26.—The session of the Senate dragged along today in such an unimportant way that little effort was required on the part of the managers of the filibuster to occupy the time by dilatory tactics. The conferees on the currency bills met during the day, and the Senate was merely kept in session in the hope that something might be done toward substantial progress in the work of closing up the session.

During the day the omnibus House bill, embracing seven separate measures affecting the navigation laws, was considered and passed by the Senate, but not without resistance. Senator Newlands made an effort to have the measure amended by inserting his bill creating the inland waterways commission. He was met with prompt objection by Mr. Nelson, whereupon the senator proceeded to speak at length upon the importance of the waterways commission.

President a "Usurper."

Senator Newlands said that in a recent speech the President had in a "facetious way" said if Congress did not authorize the commission he would find a way of continuing its work. He stated that "in this body the President's remarks were interpreted as a disposition on his part to usurp power which he did not have."

"I do not know what his intention was," said Mr. Newlands, "but he clearly has the power to call to his aid any body of citizens with a view of securing the information necessary for him to make a recommendation to Congress."

Mr. Hopkins appealed to the Senator from Nevada not to press his bill as an amendment, but to bring it up and have a vote on it, which suggestion Mr. Newlands later said he would follow. The omnibus bill was then passed.

Floor Leaders Again Clash.

WASHINGTON, May 26.—The two floor leaders of the House again today occupied the center of the stage and performed their usual feat of charging each other with responsibility for the conditions at present existing in that body. It came about through an order presented by Mr. Payne of New York granting five days' leave after adjournment in which to print in the Congressional Record the remarks that might have been, but were not made on the floor. He took occasion to arraign the Democrats for their filibuster, and said that the Republicans had no apology to make for their course.

Mr. Williams accused the majority of doing nothing at the present session, and opposed the order because it gave members no opportunity to reply to statements which he felt in advance would call for answers. The order was adopted.

Business Proceeds Rapidly.

Following this discussion business proceeded at a rapid gait. The conference report on the military academy appropriation bill was agreed to. Its consideration was marked by a vigorous speech by Mr. Slayden of Texas against the Senate amendment permitting the education of four Filipinos at West Point.

Bills were passed as follows: Granting Salt Lake City the right of way across Fort Douglas military reservation for a pipe line; refunding certain stamp taxes on foreign bills of exchange and certain duties on anthracite coal illegally collected; providing for the opening to settlement of portions of the Cheyenne and Standing Rock Indian reservations; promoting the safety of employes on railroads by requiring the equipment of locomotives with ash pans that can be dumped without an employe to go under the locomotive; providing for safe transportation of explosives.

The committee on appropriations suffered defeat in the rejection of a bill to acquire certain lands as an addition to Rock Creek park in the District of Columbia.

After passing resolutions reclassifying clerks in the government departments at Washington and declaring entitled to their seats Ma[illegible], McGavin (Republican), and [illegible] (Democrat) as representatives from Illinois, the House at 7:43 o'clock, owing to the difficulty of keeping a quorum, adjourned until 11 o'clock tomorrow.

in spreading this propaganda, and they have not been without influence.

Those who have been won over will content themselves with casting their votes against the measure. Others would, however, insist upon discussing and explaining their objections at length. Possibly there is half a dozen of this latter class, and it is impossible to estimate how much time they will consume.

Will Let It Go to Vote.

They assert, however, that, seriously opposed to the provisions of the Vreeland bill as they are, they still will not enter upon any proceeding that might be characterized as a filibuster, and say that, after expressing their views and forcing an explanation from the supporters of the bill, they would let it go to a vote. The time necessary for this proceeding none will undertake to say, and estimates range all the way from one day to one month. It seems probable now that from a week to two weeks would be required in the Senate.

The Democratic senators who opposed the compromise realize that they would be seriously handicapped in any effort at such tactics as would postpone for any great length of time the vote on the bill by the absence of a large percentage of their members. So many Democratic senators have recently left for their homes that they realize they would not be able to make an effectual filibuster if inclined to engage in one. There were indeed only 14 Democratic senators in the city today, and it was stated that while the absentees had been requested by telegraph to return it was doubtful whether they would obey the summons as most of them had gone away intending to remain. A number of Republican senators are also out of the city, and it is apparent that there will be great difficulty in maintaining a quorum in the Senate if the final disposition be long postponed.

Anxious to Get Away at Once.

Aside from the fact that members are weary from the strain of the long session and the humid weather, many of them are exceedingly anxious to get away at once because they have to fill engagements to deliver Memorial day addresses in their districts next Saturday.

Especially is it true with some of the Republican members that flights must be made at home for renomination and election and on this score they fear the danger of breaking important engagements to speak. A number of such have signified their determination to start for home not later than tonight and have said that they are willing to return next week to finish up the business of Congress, if that be necessary. Not a few on both sides of the House have surrendered their lodgings here and have packed their trunks preparatory to a start for home at an hour's notice, and this adds to the complexity of the situation created by the determination of the speaker and other party leaders to force through a currency measure in the last hours of the session regardless of the opinions of the members.

It is estimated Congress could adjourn four hours after the adoption by the Senate and the House of a compromise agreement between the currency conferees.

as they passed the reviewing stand. These were distributed to the front rows of the long stand and later went hurdling through the air to lie under the feet of the paraders.

Each division as it passed was greeted with applause and cheered.

This afternoon there were sports on sea and land and band concerts at important corners.

The stay of the fleet in the hospitable confines of the city practically ended today. Tonight shore leaves are suspended, farewells are being said and special trains are returning the thousands of visitors to their homes.

On the fleet preparations are being made to raise anchors at 9 a. m. and steam to the conquest of the city of Tacoma, situated a few miles to the southward where a warm reception is promised.

PADUCAH, Ky., May 26.—The noted Hollowell night rider damage suits were compromised today, the plaintiffs receiving $15,000. Robert Hollowell had secured a verdict for $25,000 against 29 alleged night riders of Calloway county, accused of raiding his home.

indicate what form the movement would take.

NEW YORK, May 26.—Franklin Bartlett, counsel for Mrs. Thaw, made denial tonight of Lawyer O'Reilly's statement that Mrs. Evelyn Nesbit Thaw had made application for any annulment of marriage in response to pressure brought by relatives. Mr. Bartlett said:

"As counsel for Mrs. William Thaw, I desire to say that, so far as she is concerned, and any other relative with whom I am acquainted, I know of no pressure being brought by relatives of Mrs. Evelyn Thaw's husband to bring about an annulment of the marriage. I am at loss to understand how any pressure could be brought to bear against this young woman.

"The position of the family in regard to this young woman is very simple and very just. Mrs. William Thaw desires that this young woman shall be treated not only fairly, but generously, and she is now being paid $1,000 per month, which, in my opinion as a lawyer of experience, is far more than any court would allow her for maintenance and support, either as alimony or otherwise, and it is a more generous allowance than such as would be appropriated if based on Harry Thaw's income or measured by her station in life."

"Doctor Deimel's" famous linen mesh underwear.

It is not so much a question of the cost, in buying underwear, as it is what is best for one's health.

This underwear is made from linen, which absorbs moisture in all forms, thereby keeping the skin dry.

It is also porous, which allows the air to get at the skin, keeping it in a healthy condition without dissipating the body heat. The change from woolen or cotton to Doctor Deimel's Linen Mesh Underwear can be made any time and under any condition of health. Men's shirts and drawers $3.25, combination suits $6.50, athletic shirts $2.75, knee drawers $2.75, material by the yard $1.00.

and Rev. Dr. L. Frank Bristol, pastor of the Methodist church, Washington, D. C., 493 votes. The last named was pastor, intimate friend, and often, it is said, adviser of the late President McKinley.

The bishops-elect will be consecrated at a special service on Sunday afternoon at the Lyric theater.

Lively Contests Expected.

The episcopal election out of the way the conference will now take up the election of a missionary bishop for Mexico, a secretary of the general conference, four publishing agents, 13 editors, corresponding secretaries of various boards, trustee, a new commission of aggressive evangelism and a number of other officials. The selection of many of these will be a simple matter, as for each of quite a number of positions there is but one candidate. For more than a score of them, however, lively contests are expected.

The committee on foreign missions has decided upon several recommendations to be made to the conference. One of these looks to the indorsement by the conference of the laymen's missionary union; another recommends the naming of a commission to arrange for a proper celebration throughout the entire church of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the establishment of Methodist missionaries in Korea. In support of the latter recommendation Rev. Dr. John F. Goucher, speaking of the work in Korea, said that the schools in that country are full and hundreds have to be turned away for lack of accommodations. He also said that, without ever having seen a missionary, but simply on the strength of native reports of the Christian religion, whole communities have declared for Christianity and town officials have announced it as the official religion of their districts, and have even gone to the length of adopting "Christianity flags."

Dr. Goucher declared that there is danger in superficial knowledge and grave risk of misconception and evil effects to follow.

The same committee will ask the conference to appropriate for mission work $3,000,000 for 1909, $4,000,000 for 1910, $5,000,000 for 1911, and $6,000,000 for 1912.

At a preliminary meeting of the judges, Jose Astua Aguilar, the Costa Rican representative, was appointed president of the conference; Dr. Salvador Gallegos of Salvador, vice president, and Ernesto Mattoi, a Bolivian attorney, secretary.

Ambassador Creel and Commissioner Buchanan delivered addresses. The latter closed by saying:

"I have received a cablegram from the secretary of state of the United States of America, Elihu Root, instructing me to say that he has been authorized by Andrew Carnegie to offer $100,000 for the purpose of erecting at Cartago a temple of peace for the exclusive use of the Central American court of justice, as an expression of his sympathy for the peace and progress of Central America and his confidence in the success of the great humanitarian work that has its foundation at this court and which constitutes a new and great example of civilization, of peace and fraternity between the people here represented."

The session was closed with greetings and applause on all sides, those present loudly cheering the remarks of Gonzales Viquez, the president of Costa Rica, who in returning thanks

SAVED BY AN AUTO LIGHT

Introduced in Farmer's Kitchen, a Surgeon Sees to Perform Operation.

Rome (N. Y.) Dispatch to the New York World.

The automobile has been put to an entirely new use by W. R. Reid, a surgeon of this city. He was summoned to a distant farm house by an emergency message from a rural physician. After a ride of 15 miles he found himself at dusk in the presence of an appendicis victim, upon whom an immediate operation was necessary in order to save the patient's life.

Like most other farm houses, the place had nothing better at its disposal than an oil lamp. It was dangerous to get the farmer to a hospital, as he probably would have died on the way, from pain and shock. Some kind of light far more powerful than an oil wick could furnish must be had, in order that the surgeon might see what he was doing with his keen knife.

In the emergency Dr. Reid thought of the searchlight on his automobile. The kitchen was immediately turned into an operating room, the patient being extended upon the family ironing board, either end of which rested on a small stand.

The automobile was driven as close as practicable to the kitchen window, and the large searchlight lamp was detached from the machine and passed into the kitchen. Rubber tubing, ordinarily used for drainage, was spliced with a glass drainage tube and was used to connect the gas tank on the side of the automobile with the lamp in the kitchen "surgery." The gas was then turned on, lighted, and the illumination found to be as good as in any hospital operating room.

Quick work saved the farmer's life. "It illustrates," said the surgeon, "how one of the most trying necessities of surgery in rural districts may be overcome. I hope others may benefit by it."

IS LAUGHING HIMSELF TO DEATH

From the Cincinnati Enquirer.

Gustav Scheffels, whose home is at 115 East Fifth street, is suffering from a peculiar form of insanity. When he came to the City Hospital yesterday he was laughing uproariously. He laughed so loud and long that only between laughs could the clerk in the receiving ward get his name and residence.

His friends say that for days and nights Scheffels has been laughing, stopping only when completely exhausted. The physicians are unable to learn the cause of his uncontrollable mirth, which is gradually killing him.

"WILLIE" COLLIER MAKES HIT

"Caught in the Rain" Is Well Received by Colorado Springs Theater Goers Cast Is Good.

If Manager S. N. Nye has any more postseason attractions that equal that of last night they are assured of a big house. "Caught in the Rain" and William Collier, in his new comedy, made a decided hit. It is a clever play, cleverly acted. There was a laugh in almost every line.

The cast was uniformly good, each member being well suited to his part. William Collier took the part of Dick Crawford, who starts out as a woman-hater and ends as a most ardent lover, to perfection. Ellen Mortimer was excellent as Muriel Mason, the heroine. Albert Perry, as James Maxwell, and Reginald Mason, as Bryce Forrester, did creditable work. Helena Collier-Garrick was a decided success as Mrs. Merriden.

The play was full of action, but at the beginning of the third act it dragged somewhat through the introduction of extraneous humor. The staging was excellent.

JUDGE THOMAS MACON DEAD

Pioneer Lawyer of Colorado Passes to Great Beyond—Dies at His Home in Denver.

DENVER, Colo., May 26.—Judge Thomas M. Macon, one of the best-known of the pioneer lawyers of Colorado, died at his home here today of pneumonia. He was 80 years of age. Judge Macon acquired the title through his appointment as one of the supreme court commissioners, and while serving in that capacity con's career were gained when he ensisted in clearing up a congested docket.

As defender of Dr. Thatcher Graves, charged with the murder, by poison, of the rich widow of a Rhode Island millionaire, he made a distinguished and brilliant fight.

But the notable spurs of Judge Macon's career were gained when he entered the fight waged by the Rio Grande and Santa Fe railroads for the possession of the Royal Gorge.

Judge Macon came to Colorado from Missouri in 1862 and located in Canon City.

PUBLICITY IS FAVORED

BRYAN AND TAFT AGREE ON IMPORTANT QUESTION.

Telegrams Exchanged by Leading Candidates for Presidential Honors on Both Tickets.

LINCOLN, Neb., May 26.—William J. Bryan today received a telegram from Secretary Taft containing the views of the latter on publicity in regard to campaign contributions. Mr. Bryan sent the following reply:

"Am very much gratified to receive your telegram and trust the publication of your letter will add the weight necessary to turn the scales in favor of the measure. Elections are public affairs and publicity will help to purify politics."

Mr. Brown telegraphed to Senator Culberson and Representative Williams as follows:

"Please secure copies of my telegram to Secretary Taft and his reply concerning campaign contributions. His letter to Senator Burrows may enable you to secure action on the bill."

WASHINGTON, May 26.—Secretary Taft today received the following telegram from William J. Bryan:

"I beg to suggest that as leading candidates in our respective parties we join in asking congress to pass a bill requiring publication of campaign contributions prior to election. If you think best we can ask other candidates to unite with us in the request.
(Signed) WM. J. BRYAN."

Secretary Taft had meanwhile and before he had received this telegram had a talk with the president at the White house so that he was prepared immediately upon his return to the war department to give out for publication his answer, as follows:

Hon. W. J. Bryan, Lincoln, Neb.

Your telegram received. On April 30, last, I sent the following letter to Senator Burrows, the chairman of the committee on privileges and elections of the senate:

"My Dear Burrows: I sincerely believe that it would greatly tend to the absence of corruption in politics if the expenditure for nomination and election of all candidates and all contributions received and expenditures made by political committees could be made public both in respect to state and national politics. For that reason I am strongly in favor of the passage of the bill which is now pending in the senate and house bringing about this result so far as national politics are concerned. I mark this letter personal because I am anxious to avoid assuming an attitude in the campaign which it is quite possible I shall never have the right to assume, but so far as my personal influence is concerned I am anxious to give it for the passage of the bill."
"Very sincerely, yours,
(Signed) "WM. H. TAFT."

Since writing the above, in answer to inquiry I have said publicly that I hoped the bill would pass."
(Signed) WM. H. TAFT.

ROYALTY ATTENDED BRUSSELS BIG FAIR

From the New York Herald's Paris Edition.

BRUSSELS—The annual charity fair was opened yesterday. It is under the management of Comtesse John d'Oultremont and is being visited by most of the society folk of the capital.

Princesse Clementine, the Countess of Flanders, Prince and Princess Albert with their sons, Princes Leopold and Charles, and the Duchesse de Vendome, accompanied by her two little daughters, Princesses Marie Louise and Genevieve, have bought water colors and bibelots from the Duchesse d'Ursel's stall, flowers from Comtesse de t'Kint de Roodebeke, bonbons and cakes from Comtesse Eugenie d'Oultremont, fancy work and materials from Baronne de Traux de Wardin and clothing for the poor from Comtesse Louis de Merode.

Baronne de Pitteurs Hiegart's cosmopolitan wares also tempted them, as did the thousand and one trifles on the stall managed by Comtesse de Grunne. But the corner where the royal children lingered most was at the stall of Comtesse Paulo de Borchgrave d'Altena, who sold toys and all manner of things that children love.

Beautiful Changes Wrought For Thin Women

Madame Moneaux, deceased beauty specialist, of New York, long possessed the greatest of all secrets pertaining to feminine charm. And what is this great secret, so much desired by women—the secret that has made a vast fortune for the madam's heirs, and that brought her all the famous actresses and society leaders for patrons?

"What, you don't know?"

It is a simple, but sure method of developing the bust, arms and neck of women, who through defect of nutrition and circulation, are humiliated by undeveloped arms, neck and bust. The treatment consists of applying a powerful but harmless nervine-stimulant to the cells of the skin, to be absorbed and utilized as nourishment to the flesh cells and tissues. Beautiful changes are wrought. Ugly, deformed women are developed into charming personages, with well rounded arms and neck and full natural bust of exquisite curve and proportion so much admired in our great actresses and society leaders. Any leading druggist will supply the ingredients to mix at home, and as they are used for various prescriptions no one need be the wiser as to what they are to be used for, which is as it should be for modest womanhood. Get separately "two ounces glycerine," "three ounces Rose Water," and "one ounce Tincture Cadomene" and five cents worth of borax. Take home, mix the glycerine with Tincture Cadomene, shake and let stand for two hours; then add a teaspoonful of borax and the rose water. Shake well and apply to the neck, arms and bust, rubbing and massaging until completely absorbed; then wash thoroughly with hot water and soap and dry thoroughly. Apply morning and night regularly for several weeks and the most beautiful development will begin to reward the efforts. It is believed by experts to be the most necessary and effective prescription ever conceived.

This is worth keeping, if not for yourself, for some dear friend who needs it.

RACE FOR VANDERBILT CUP

Big Event Will Probably Be Pulled Off on Long Island.

NEW YORK, May 26.—That there will be an automobile race for the Vanderbilt cup held this year was authoritatively announced here tonight. While official announcement was lacking as to detail, it may safely be said that the race will be held on Long Island, probably on the Long Island motor parkway, a private roadway which it is hoped to have far enough advanced toward completion to permit the running of the big international event over it in the fall.

This decision was made today at a meeting of the racing board of the American Automobile association, which constitutes the Vanderbilt cup commission and which also took radical action looking to control, by the American Automobile association, of the entire automobile racing field in the United States. The gauntlet was thrown down to the Automobile club of America, which, it had been stated, was contemplating the holding of a rival international race at Savannah, Ga.

M'GOVERN LACKS STEAM

Fights Six Rounds Without a Decision With Spike Robson.

NEW YORK, May 26.—Terry McGovern of Brooklyn and Spike Robson, the English featherweight, fought six rounds tonight at the National Athletic club, giving a somewhat tame exhibition to the big crowd which watched them. No decision was given, but, under any conditions, the fight probably would have been declared a draw, although Robson plainly had the better of it toward the end. McGovern started well, and during the first four rounds landed enough blows to have put his man out many times over had they had any steam behind them. They lacked force, however, and did not seem to bother the Englishman much.

Toward the end of the sixth round there came a flash of the old-time McGovern, when he let loose in one of his former whirlwind attacks. Even then it was not the McGovern of old. The strength was not there.

To be a social success, you must pretend you are having a good time whether you are or not.

THE AMERICAN FLAG.

From the New York Press.

Did you know that the design for Old Glory, our American flag, was suggested by a barber's pole in Philadelphia? Washington, on his visits to the Quaker city, patronized a certain loquacious and not unlearned Dutch barber whose shop was in a basement in Arch street. The construction of the national standard in 1777 was under his personal direction, and he spent many sleepless nights thinking over colors and their arrangement. Lying in the barber's chair one day for a shave, Washington expressed admiration for the red, white and blue harmoniousness of the pole at the door. "Nothing could be happier," exclaimed the barber. "I always rejoice when I see that combination of beautiful colors; the red symbolizing divine love, the white truth and hope, and the blue loyalty."

Washington turned the other side of his face, remarking: "Yes Schimmelpenninck, and those colors have other meanings, the red being emblematic of war, the white of peace and the blue of justice." The little chat with Schimmelpenninck led the immortal George to incline the congress committee to his way of thinking, and the tricolor national standard was adopted.

Central Idea

May 26.

In my last little write-up I spoke of my method as the Shepard treatment. It has been known by this name for a good many years, and has a great many friends all over the United States, and, of course, like all good things, it has its enemies, but its enemies are all people who really know very little, if anything, about it, so that if you hear anyone talking against it you can be sure that they have had no personal experience with it; or, if they have, they have not followed my instructions, but have done as they thought best and so failed to obtain good results. The central idea in this treatment is to treat the healthy portion of the lungs both by inhalation and exhalation. In talking about this method people will tell you that they have used inhalers without any benefit. It is true there are inhalers and inhalers, but this is the only inhaler and exhaler that does the work on the same principle as this one. When you take the medication into the healthy air-cells it is held there long enough so that it is absorbed into the blood, and is one of the most direct and perfect ways of treating the blood that can be devised. When any portion of the lung becomes diseased the whole lung is weakened by it so that the air does not pass into any portion of the lung as it should. When I take a patient I measure the capacity of their lungs, and then decide how many cubic inches of the medicated air they should use at each respiration. This air is measured so that they take only as many cubic inches as I direct. There is no strain whatever brought upon the lung. Every inhalation is a perfectly natural one, and no force or power is used at all. In this way there is no danger of the lung being strained. The medicine inhaled is a perfect antiseptic. Those who suffer from hemorrhages get rid of their hemorrhages very quickly. Those who suffer from pain in their lungs get rid of the pain and all notice an improvement in their breathing. The first month or six weeks the patient expectorates more and gets rid of the accumulation of impure matter in their lungs. In fact, they do a regular house cleaning, and get rid of all of the putrid matter. In this way they very soon get rid of their fever and chills and the night sweats leave them, and they soon begin to feel that they are on the high road to recovery. This instrument is used at the home four times a day and becomes a great favorite with those who use it. In addition to this the patient comes to the office as often as I request, so that I may keep a close watch of their symptoms, so as to control them as rapidly as possible. I give my patients a great deal of attention, because I realize that the disease is constantly at work and that something must be done constantly to neutralize the effect of the poison upon the system. It is almost impossible to give a clear idea of all of the interesting features connected with this method, but they will be fully explained at my office in the Barnes building. Office hours from 10:00 to 12:00 a. m. and from 2:00 to 5:00 p. m.

Yours very truly,
Dr. W. A. Shepard

THE NEW TREATIES.

AMONG Monday's Washington dispatches was one which must have been a surprise to most readers. It told how the Senate at this session has confirmed no less than thirty-seven treaties with other nations. This is not only a record—it is more treaties than were confirmed before in twenty years. But the confirmation is not so remarkable as the negotiation. All the Senate has had to do is to look at the completed results, and after examining them, give its approval; but think of the work that was done by the Senate department in getting these treaties agreed upon and in shape for action by the Senate! For some reason or other, the brass bands have not played much for the Secretary of State in this administration; but when the history of it comes to be written, we dare say the verdict will be that the work of the state department was the most important of all.

Of course not all these treaties are of the first rank; some of them are merely supplementary, and some of them simply carry out some of the recommendations of The Hague Conference. These latter are by no means unimportant, and there are among the thirty-seven some of the first consequence. Foremost among these, probably, is the agreement by which all the differences between this country and Canada and Newfoundland are to be permanently settled. These disputes are as old as the nation. Some of them were left unsettled after the Revolutionary war, and they have remained unsettled ever since. Th war of 1812 aggravated some of them, and not all the negotiations of the last forty years have hitherto availed to dispose of them. One question was as to the boundary, and this has become acute since the discovery of gold in the Yukon region. Another that has always caused trouble is the Newfoundland fisheries. We understand that by the terms of this agreement which has just been ratified, all the matters in dispute will be finally settled.

The agreements with Great Britain in regard to Canadian questions are of great consequence in themselves, and for the two nations principally concerned; but they are also of consequence as affording an example to other nations. The questions at issue were such as have often in the past led to war, and such as might lead to war again. The sight of the two great English-speaking nations agreeing to arbitrate all the differences which they cannot agree upon between themselves is one that is bound to have a great moral influence, second only to the influence exercised when the same two nations agreed to arbitrate the Alabama claims.

Our relations with China and Japan are of late years especially important, and at times there have been differences which might have led to serious results. The conduct of foreign affairs during the Boxer uprising and during the Russo-Japanese war has required ability of the first order, and discretion of the highest kind. Our position now with both of those oriental countries is excellent. For that we have the state department mainly to thank.

It is too soon yet to make an intelligent estimate of the entire work of this session of the Sixtieth Congress; but this one matter of treaties may well be allowed consideration by itself; and the approval of so many by the Senate constitutes a part of their record by no means the least important of all.

THE CRUMPACKER AMENDMENT.

IT IS unfortunate that two totally different matters were hitched together by the House the other day in passing the campaign publicity bill. Whether the intention was to kill that bill, or only to start a movement toward the ultimate application of the Fourteenth amendment to the southern states, the result is to put an end to the publicity bill, and to introduce unnecessary bitterness into the coming campaign in certain states.

The Crumpacker amendment is a measure providing that the language of the fourteenth amendment be carried out, and that in those states in which the suffrage has been limited, the representation in the House shall be reduced in proportion. On the face of it, it is a perfectly fair proposition. The Constitution has been nullified persistently and successfully and with entire impunity in the southern states for many years. Everybody knows it; most people have seemed to acquiesce in it. There is no excitement in Colorado because the vote of a man in Mississippi counts for ten times as much as his own—he doesn't seem to care whether it counts for ten times as much, or twenty, or a hundred. Since the Fifty-first Congress there has been a sort of tacit consent in the northern states to let the south do just what it pleases in regard to the franchise, meanwhile keeping its full representation in the House, based upon population. Any man who had been alive in 1888 who should have come back in ten years, and seen the difference in northern sentiment in regard to this matter, would have thought he had been away a century.

The tremendous advantage which their over-representation gives to the south is practically minimized by their solidity. Containing most of the brains and the votes of the Democratic party, they have [illegible] their natural leadership in [illegible] to deal with the negro [illegible] south for twenty years. No real political issues have divided or interested the people generally. Plenty of southern Democrats are in favor of protection, but they would never think of voting a Republican ticket on that account. But some day they may wake up and aspire to take what is theirs for the asking. When that time comes, it will make a difference that one man's vote in the south counts for ten men's votes in the north. It is so palpably unjust that the wonder is that the country has been so absolutely apathetic about it for all these years. The issue is bound to be made some day, but when it is, it should not be complicated with another and totally different measure.

We cannot believe there is any danger of an extra session of Congress. To be sure, the houses adjourned without doing a number of the things which were urged by the President, but the measures he proposed were all considered more or less—some of them very fully indeed; and the national legislature is a co-ordinate branch of the government, and the President knows it. They have just as good a right to refrain from enacting an anti-injunction law, for instance, as the President has to recommend the enactment. To call them together again for the reconsideration of measures which they have been considering for six months would probably be a waste of time and money, not to speak of the political effect it might have.

It sounds warlike to hear that the head of the French government has sailed in a French man-of-war across the channel, attended by a fleet of destroyers; but the invasion is peaceful, and the British are not scared. The visit is ceremonial—Edward VII has called upon M. Fallieres at Paris, and he is returning the call. It contributes to the gayety of nations, and perhaps a little to international good will, and at any rate, it gives a lot of people a chance to wear their very best clothes.

The presence of the big fleet in Puget Sound reminds us that there is to be an exposition at Seattle next year, and the people there are making every effort to have it an unqualified success. Colorado should be properly represented. There will be a specially large and fine display of Alaskan gold, and this state should show its best samples.

The rain that was such a godsend to this state has proved a disaster for some parts of Oklahoma and Texas. We are sorry for the people of less favored states; but we must wonder why they live there. Of course many of them have to; but there must be some who could get away and come to Colorado.

It is hardly worth while to send out from the White House an official denial of the rumor that a serious difference had arisen between the President and the Attorney-General over the New Haven case. The able Washington correspondents will have a new sensation just as good concocted in a day or two.

The Lusitania has smashed the ocean record once more, going this time at an average of more than twenty-five knots all the way across, and beating twenty-six at times. The record for one day is close to 650 miles. This is "going some," even for Lusy.

Congress may adjourn almost any day now. The business is practically over—at least there will be no new legislation, and no changes except in a few items of appropriation bills.

WATER AND THE MILLS.

To the Editor of The Gazette:

The two communications appearing in your morning edition, in "Open Parliament" column, making inquiries and suggestions about the water conditions now prevailing in the city's system, moves the writer to make some statements through the same column to clear up some false impressions and rumors that have been recently lodged in the public mind.

The Portland mill has its own water supply from Bear creek for operating and domestic uses. The plant of the United States Reduction and Refining company at Colorado City, since December, 1905, has secured its water for domestic purposes from a water system belonging to Anthony Bott, which he installed for a small village adjacent to the Standard mill; the water for operating this plant is obtained directly from Fountain creek by virtue of certain water rights owned by this company and is carried to the plant by an open ditch heading in the stream near Red Rock canon. The Golden Cycle mill obtains its supply of water for operating purposes (except boiler uses) from large wells or reservoirs on its own premises, which develop water from what is known as the underflow some 25 or 30 feet below the bed of Fountain creek, and while there is a great abundance of this water, the same cannot be used for boiler or drinking purposes on account of the large amount of alkali therein. A careful measurement of the water in this creek, made on several occasions, shows that there is much more water in the stream where it leaves the Golden Cycle premises than there is in the same where it enters the premises, showing that much of the water pumped from the underflow and used in the mill is added to and increases the flow of the stream. There is a five-inch pipe line run from the city water system in First street, Colorado City, to the Golden Cycle mill, and the same line is carried throughout the premises with fire plugs attached solely for fire protection; this line is tapped only in one place for domestic uses and by an inch pipe, so that no water can be drawn from the city system for any purpose at the mill except through this one-inch pipe. The maximum horsepower capacity of the boilers in use at the mill is 300-horsepower, and, measured by well-known rules, consumes not in excess of 1,000 gallons per 24 hours; the only other city water used for drinking purposes by the 100 workmen on the premises, and this amounts to very little. From the time the Telluride mill was built (now the Golden Cycle mill) in 1899, until May 1, 1907, the city regularly collected its monthly bills for water used; since May 1, 1907, no bill has been presented because of the attitude of the present city administration as to the right of the mill to use city water, but the water is on a meter, and an account has been regularly kept by the city books against the Golden Cycle company for all water used, and, no doubt, sooner or later, a bill for the same will be presented and paid, as the company stands ready to pay the account at any time the city is willing to receive it.

If there is a shortage of water in the city system, the same would not be remedied in any appreciable degree by withdrawing water from the mill, as the 20,000 gallons per day being used is a mere drop in the bucket compared with the 9,000,000 gallons per day used by the other customers of the city. Of course, the withdrawal of this water from the Cycle mill would result in several hundred families having to leave town for want of work, and thereby the city water supply would be [illegible] tion may be called to the fact that the railroads are using from the city water system 5,250,000 gallons per month, or 240,000 gallons per day, and nearly all of it is carried beyond the city limits for boiler use in railroad engines. The writer, within the past few days, has interviewed the management of these railroads, and has learned that the city administration has made no effort to have them curtail their use of water, but they each and all advise the writer that rather than have the Golden Cycle mill, or any other industry adjacent to Colorado Springs, suffer for the want of city water, they would largely curtail their use of water for engine purposes if asked to do so by the city authorities. In fact, they are disposed to make this offer to the city authorities, and at least two of the roads, which are the heaviest consumers, are disposed to entirely cut out the use of this water until such time as there is an abundance to draw from.

What is here said is not meant as any criticism upon the present City Council or city administration. There is a resolution pending before the Council which, if passed, would commit the city to a policy of excluding the use of water to all industries outside of the city limits. I do not understand any member of the Council is committed to the passage of this resolution or the inauguration of the business policy therein contained; the resolution was introduced "by request," with the understanding that the member introducing the same did not commit himself to its support other than to bring it to the attention of the Council by request of the parties interested in having the subject considered and acted on by the Council. It is hardly possible that, upon due consideration, any member of the Council would not view with dismay the disastrous consequences which would follow the inauguration of such a business policy to the future welfare of the city; under such conditions its growth would be hampered, and if the industries now established were thereby compelled to move away, and other industries seeking locations thus invited to go elsewhere, our growth as a city would be smaller rather than larger; we would shrink from the proportions of a city to that of a village and as a railroad station eventually become a mere whistling post.

THE MAN AND HIS JOB

By Herbert J. Hapgood

The time is drawing near when every clerk and bookkeeper and banker and railroad president will be confronted with the same problem, how to spend his vacation. The office boy gets his two weeks' outing to Westchester County, while Millionaire Gotthedough leaves his mahogany office and takes his yacht for a spin over the Mediterranian. And no matter in what walk of life you may be, your getting away from business is planned with an equal amount of attention. What to do, where to do it, and how to do it are the principal topics of off-duty conversation.

What is really meant by a vacation is the diversion that will take us farthest away from our regular daily routine, and in this way offering new suggestions which are foreign in the remotest degree from our common existence. This breaking away, this transition from work to play is sometimes accompanied with no little mental struggle, and in some cases not even accomplished at all. I remember the story of the London stage driver who, after three years' steady employment, took a day off for recreation. He found it so difficult to decide how he would enjoy himself that he finally used up his day's leave by accompanying a fellow bus driver on his trips up and down Piccadilly all day. He then profusely thanked his pal for affording him so much pleasure.

Then there is the man who has every opportunity presented to him for a good time, and he goes to the other extreme. The theatrical man, who has the privilege of walking into the theaters deadhead, never spends his vacation going around to the different plays. I know some automobile men who would not think of speeding over the country for pleasure. The traveling salesman never takes any pleasure in touring. And I understand that many people in the fishing tackle business don't spend their vacations fishing. Jack Wright, an authority on fishing paraphernalia and equipment, on being asked why he did not go in for the sport himself, replied that he never as yet knew a watchmaker to play with a watch.

Today's Horoscope

Wednesday, May 27, 1908.

Fortune stands draped in mist-cloak gray
And with no gesture shows the way.

On this 148th day, Mars is in benefic aspect with the dying Moon, and Venus is in opposition to Uranus, an aspect of evil import since ancient times.

Beware this day of aught that contains the speculative. Chance has more of unkindliness than of magnanimity in her gray mist-cloak in these twenty-four hours. Only what thine own powers can measurably compel, is safe.

In matters of which thou hast full knowledge, however, deal without fear. Transact accustomed business briskly. The influence is not untoward.

Seek work, travel, consult surgeons and physicians, and engage in any transactions requiring the use of tools.

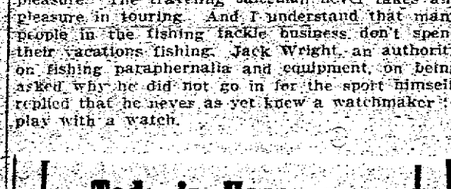

Under all circumstances, however, beware of disputatious argument in these twenty-four hours.

An opportunity for foreign travel will probably come to the woman whose birthdate this is. The unwell will be spurned.

Speculation is the danger that threatens the man with this birthdate. Change in occupation will probably come in the form of promotion.

The girl born this day will be fortunate in married life. She will be most likely to wed in her 27th or 28th year.

The boy born today will probably wish to change his occupation and habitation every little while. He will do well if he is steadied.

A DELMONICAN AFFAIR.

From the Naturite (Colo.) Crescent.

The dinner given by the Mesdames George and Mel Woodard on Thursday to the ladies of the guild was a most enjoyable occasion. The dinner was a Delmonican affair from start to finish, and the amount of fun the ladies managed to sandwich between bites was a record smasher. The staid elderly ladies tried to preserve order, but the chits between 25 and 40 were quite irrepressible. After dinner they indulged in racing stunts on the lawn which added not a little to the hilarity. It is claimed that only soft drinks were served at dinner—but

About Advertising.

The Perambulating Showcase

By Herbert Kaufman.

¶ The newspaper is a huge shop window, carried about the city and delivered daily into thousands of homes, to be examined at the leisure of the reader. This shop window is unlike the actual plate glass show case only in one respect it makes display of descriptions instead of articles.

¶ You have often been impressed by the difference between the decorations of two window trimmers, each of whom employed the same materials for his work. The one drew your attention and held it by the grace and cleverness and art manifested in his display. The other realized so little of the possibilities in the materials placed at his disposal that unless some one called your attention to his bungling you would have gone on unconscious of its existence.

¶ An advertiser must know that he gets his results in accordance with the skill exercised in preparing his verbal displays. He must make people stop and pause. His copy has to stand out.

¶ He must not only make a show of things that are attractive to the eye but are attractive to the people's needs, as well.

¶ The window-trimmer must not make the mistake of thinking that the showiest stocks are the most salable. The advertiser must not make the mistake of thinking that the showiest words are the most clinching.

¶ Windows are too few in number to be used with indiscretion. The good merchant puts those goods back of his plate glass which nine people out of ten will want after they have seen them.

¶ The good advertiser tells about goods which nine readers out of ten will buy if they can be convinced.

¶ Newspaper space [illegible] is only the window just as the show case is but a frame for merchandise pictures. A window on a crowded street in the best neighborhood, where prosperous persons pass continually, is more desirable than one in a cheap sparsely settled neighborhood. An advertisement in a newspaper with the most readers and the most prosperous ones possesses a great advantage over the same copy in a medium circulating among persons who possess less means. It would be foolish for a shop to build its windows in the alleyway—and just as much so to put its advertising into newspapers which are distributed among "alley-dwellers."

OH, SPLASH!

Night has fallen on the water; shadows
gray and sweet and cool
Kiss the fragrant, weed-grown edges of the calm, untroubled pool.
And above the moon is smiling, and the gleams of silver light
Make the water seem a mirror, polished, gleaming, clear and bright.

Gr-r-r-runk, gr-r-runk! The frogs are singing; hollow notes of music float
Out to where they sit in silence in the moonlight-burnished boat;
Then a squeal dispels the picture and upon the boat's damp seat
Squats a lady filled with terror, sitting wildly on her feet.

"Take me back!" she orders fiercely.
"Take me home, you brutal man.
One of those worms tried to bite me—crawled out of that rusty can."
And a man in savage manner bends his muscle to the oar,
Splashing spray of liquid silver as he pulls in toward the shore.

"Fishing worms!" Oh, Grandma's thimble!
Sentiment, thy name is Mud;
And the boat springs madly shoreward,
landing with a sodden thud.

JAPANESE SERVANTS.

Make Themselves Useful But Seem to Act in Capacity of Spies.

From the New York Press.

Since the wholesale discharge of Japanese servants from duty on the ships of the battle fleet (if they really were discharged), hundreds of the little fellows are in New York seeking employment. These "ex-navy" ornaments, valets de luxe, ward room jewels, "cabin maids," "rat-abouts," etc., are thoroughly disciplined.

They move noiselessly and their voices are golden—being silent. If these men are hard up they do not show it. They are not holding themselves as cheap servants. Only the green ones will accept $25 a month. A trained valet, butler, general housework or handy man about the house wants $40 or more.

To have a diminutive Jap trotting in his sandals about the house ready at every one's beck and call, ever cheerful, willing, vigilant, is something of a change from Maria, Jennie, Charlotte, Mary, Louisa, Amelia, Maggie, Nora, Ellen, Nellie, Lizzie, Annie and Bridget. Hear the children lisping, Ki, Yamaguchi, Kusaki, Toyo, Saki, Mori, Gichi, Kobayashi, Yokota, Taky, Kanekotou, Iuchi, Inuzuka, Makota and Matsui.

The Japs seem to possess a strange predilection for domestic service when they come to America. The Chinese want either a laundry or some heavy outdoor work, like railroad construction. As soon as possible they set up in business for themselves and make [illegible] merchantmen.

District Attorney Files Information Against Bishop.

The long-contested suit of C. H. and H. C. Spear vs. L. A. Parker to recover $100 damages for the value of a cow which the defendant was charged with killing, and which was recently decided in favor of the plaintiffs, took a sensational turn in the district court yesterday, when Clarence Bishop, the star witness for the Spears, was tried on a charge of perjury brought in a direct information by the district attorney. Judge S. S. Morris instructed the jury to return a verdict discharging the prisoner, but this was owing to a technicality in the information, and Bishop will be tried again on a corrected information. Bishop testified that he saw Parker kill the cow, but Omar Kaessner later filed an affidavis in court that he (Kaessner) had shot the animal, thus apparently proving Bishop's perjury.

DIVORCE SUIT LEADS TO ROW

Emma Julius Wants Court to Grant Separation From Fred Julius Who Raises Disturbance.

Charging gross infidelity, Emma Julius filed suit in the district court yesterday for divorce from Fred Julius, part owner of the Hiawatha saloon in Colorado City. At the instance of the plaintiff, Judge W. S. Morris issued a writ of no exeat against Julius, who gave bond in the sum of $1,000 for his appearance at the trial. Mrs. Julius requests $2,000 permanent alimony, $20 weekly alimony pending the outcome of the suit, $150 attorney fees and $50 court costs. The couple were married in Burlington, La., 14 years ago.

Considerable excitement was caused in the neighborhood of the Julius home, 515 Lincoln avenue, last night, as a result of a disturbance caused by Julius. Angered by his wife's divorce complaint, the husband, it is said, went to their home and abused his wife. Their 10-year-old daughter notified the police and an officer was sent to the house. Mrs. Julius refused to swear to a complaint against her husband, and since the husband was in his own home the authorities were unable to interfere.

PRESENT FRENCH PLAY

Students at Colorado College Make a Hit on the Stage.

The French club of Colorado College last night presented the first French play ever given at the college, a [illegible] performance was received with [illegible] appreciation by the audience. The name of the play was "L'Ete de la Saint-Martin," one of the most charming of Halevy's one-act comedies. The cast was composed of advanced French students, pupils of Prof. E. C. Hills, who has done much towards rendering the play a success. Much credit is also due to Miss Sahm and Miss Trott for the able manner in which they have coached the pupils. Among those present at the performance last night were: Mrs. W. F. Slocum, Dean E. S. Parsons, Professor and Mrs. Howe, Professor and Mrs. Brehaut, Miss Virginia Beauchamp, Miss Mary McAllister, Miss Matilda McAllister, Miss Mabel Bateman and Miss Sahm. The program follows:

BUYS WOOD AVE. SITE

A. S. HALL PAYS $30,000 FOR CHOICE GROUND.

Will Make Extensive Improvements. Many Fine New Homes to Be Built Here.

One of the largest and best residence sites in Colorado Springs was sold by Wills, Spackman and Kent yesterday, when the Colorado Springs company transferred to Alanson S. Hall of this city a splendid tract in the 1900 block on Wood avenue. The consideration was $30,000 cash. The site has a frontage of 535 feet on Wood avenue, including that portion of Washington street which was recently vacated by the City Council and extends westward to the edge of Monument park, a distance of about 600 feet. Mr. Hall, who is the father-in-law of Professor W. C. Sturgiss of Colorado College, will make extensive improvements on the property.

Bounded on the north and west by Monument park, of which it has a superb view; on the south (across Fontanero street) by J. E. Curtis's home, and on the east by the residence of C. L. Hemming and other well-improved properties, the tract bought by Mr. Hall is regarded as unexcelled for residence purposes.

Many Fine New Homes.

Colorado Springs business men are much pleased at the growing interest in real estate in this city. The announcement of new homes to be built in Broadmoor by C. B. Schley and E. C. Allen, together with the one now being built by C. A. Baldwin, and the recent purchase of a splendid site in the 1400 block on Wood avenue for his private residence by Thomas H. Bowers, a Philadelphia capitalist, added to the Hall purchase of yesterday, are examples of the bright future in store for this city as an ideal residence town.

In an editorial on "Real Estate as an Investment," the New York Herald recently quoted W. E. Harmon, who said, after a study of conditions in many cities in the United States:

"We are on the eve of a world-wide real estate movement which will make for many years to come large profits for all reasonably careful investors." Continuing, Mr. Harmon says:

"Real estate is today almost alone in its freedom from attacks by state and national legislation, and its diversified ownership guarantees its future immunity."

"This is of special interest," says The Herald, editorially, "because the depression in railroad and trust securities is more or less closely related to attacks of the kind named."

WILL WINK THE OTHER EYE

State Commissioner Gives Official Sanction to Fishing on Saturday and Sunday.

Fulfilling the eager anticipations of fishing enthusiasts, D. E. Farr, game and fish commissioner, has formally declared open the fishing season two days earlier than the literal interpretation of the law. This will allow the followers of "Ike" Walton to flie themselves to the trout streams next Friday and begin fishing at 12:01 o'clock Saturday morning. The fact that there are two holidays preceding June 1 caused the action of the fish commissioner.

Following is the official proclamation issued by Mr. Farr:

Whereas, It seems to be the sentiment of the people of the state, as is evidenced by the hundreds of appeals received by the commissioner, that no action be taken with parties who fish on Decoration day, this being only two days in advance of the regular time for opening of the season and as Decoration day falls on Saturday, the last day of the week, and

Whereas, It is the intention of the game and fish commissioner to conform to the wishes of the people of the state, where it can be consistently done, and to do that which will accomplish the greatest good for the greatest number of people, and

Whereas, A large percentage of the people of the state are anxious to get out for innocent amusement and recreation, and while the opening of the season on Decoration day might occasion some criticism and unfavorable comment, still it seems best to give those who are confined for a greater portion of the time an early opportunity for the recreation which they so much desire and which is productive of so much benefit to them, without any intention of desecrating this holiday, which is sacred to us all, or without any desire to offer any disrespect to any person who might not think that Decoration day should be celebrated by going a fishing, at the same time each one should be left free to celebrate this day as he sees fit.

Now, therefore, I hereby give notice that the game and fish department will not institute or encourage prosecutions for violations of the fishing law relative to the open season of such persons as may see fit to fish on Decoration day and the day following, May 30 and 31.

HANGING PICTURES DANGEROUS

"Railroad casualties receive such wide publicity," said an insurance man yesterday, "that there is a common belief on the part of the public that one is more liable to accidents while traveling than when living the simple life in the confines of his home.

BANQUET BRILLIANT AFFAIR

Real Estate Men and Their Wives and Sweethearts Enjoy Social Evening at Antlers.

Good cheer reigned supreme at the complimentary banquet given at the Antlers hotel last night by the Colorado Springs Real Estate exchange. The realty men had as their guests their wives and lady friends, with a fair sprinkling of distinguished citizens who are not members of the exchange.

Frank Cotten, president of the exchange, presided and proved himself an apt toastmaster. There was no formal program, although a number of the speakers were given subjects in advance. A pleasing musical program was furnished by Fink's orchestra during the dinner, after which the speakers were heard.

Mayor D. N. Heizer headed the list on the subject, "The Old Real Estate Man." The mayor not only showed a familiarity with the trials and tribulations of the pioneer realty dealer, giving reminiscences of days gone by, but told a number of anecdotes that elicited hearty laughter.

W. W. Williamson, vice president of the exchange, was optimistic in his remarks on the subject, "Our Future." The appropriate subject of "Our Past" was given to E. W. Kent, past president of the exchange. He concealed nothing and showed that there is nothing in the history of the organization that will not bear the limelight. The Rev. A. W. Moore, pastor of the Second Congregational church, gave a wholesome talk on "The Good We Do One Another."

There were several impromptu addresses and the evening went into history as one of the pleasant episodes in the life of the exchange. The affair was so successful that it is probable that others of a similar nature will be planned for the future.

BUILDING PLANS DRAWN

COLLEGE Y. M. C. A. TO ERECT FINE HALL.

New Dormitory to Cost $100,000, and Gymnasium to Cost $50,000, Will Follow.

Architect's plans for the Colorado College Y. M. C. A., which will probably be the next building erected on the campus, have been completed, and the sketch of the new building is presented herewith. The building will be located in that part of the campus west of Cascade avenue, and will be between Hagerman hall, the men's dormitory and Cutler Academy. It will be built of peachblow sandstone, in conformity with Palmer hall, Perkins hall, Coburn library and Hagerman hall.

The cost of the building, with furnishings, will be $85,000, and a campaign is to be launched by the College Y. M. C. A. next fall to raise this amount. Already a large sum has been pledged, and it is hoped to secure the entire amount in time for the beginning of actual building next spring.

Four Stories High.

The building is to be four stories in height and is planned not only to become the center of the social and religious life among the men of the college, but also to serve as an additional dormitory.

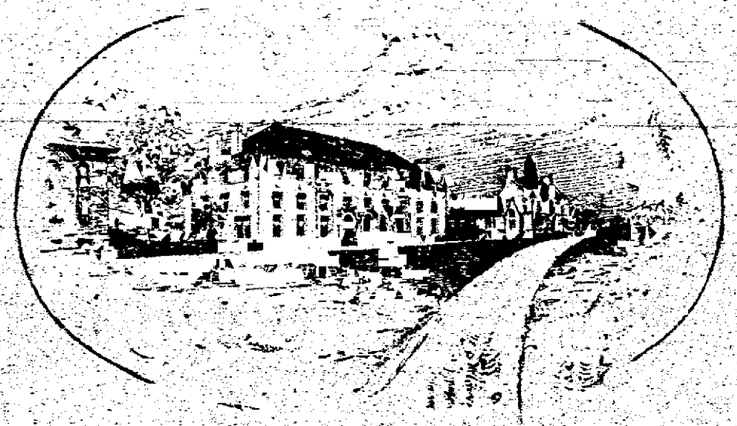

In the basement will be a concrete swimming pool, 60 feet long by 20 feet wide, and from four to eight feet in depth; shower baths, locker and dressing rooms, bowling alleys, a billiard room and a kitchen.

On the main floor will be a large reception hall, together with lounging and game rooms, a reading room, administration offices, a ladies' reception room, a check room and an auditorium with a seating capacity of 250.

The second floor will contain a banquet hall, 60 by 30 feet, which will be so arranged that it may be partitioned into committee and Bible study rooms; the gallery to the auditorium, and dormitories. The second and third floors will be devoted to dormitory purposes, with accommodations for 50 students.

Two More Buildings.

President W. F. Slocum has promised the members of the Y. M. C. A. that theirs is to be the next building to be erected on the campus, and to the end that its construction may begin as soon as possible, the members plan a vigorous campaign for funds shortly after the opening of the school in the fall. The construction of the Y. M. C. A. building will be followed by the erection of a $100,000 men's dormitory and a $50,000 gymnasium, plans for which have been under consideration by President Slocum and the board of trustees for some time.

PROPOSED NEW COLORADO COLLEGE Y. M. C. A. BUILDING.

Carl Blackman is president of the Colorado College Y. M. C. A.; Glenn Hammond is vice president; Lloyd Reeks, secretary, and B. F. Stiles, treasurer. The cabinet is composed of J. L. Calhoun, K. Lee Hyder, G. W. Shaw, William Lennox and Messrs. Crane and Hoover. For the last three years, Harry Ewing has been general secretary.

This cancer must be torn, root and tendril, from the heart of the nation, and it's up to the thinking American citizen to perform the operation. FAMOUS INDIAN FIGHTER DEAD

W. T. Hamilton, One of General Custer's Noted Scouts, Dies.

BUTTE, Mont., May 26.—A Miner dispatch from Billings tells of the death there Sunday night of William T. Hamilton, aged 85, probably the greatest Indian fighter and Indian sign reader and talker the west has ever produced. Years before "Buffalo Bill" Cody was born, Hamilton was fighting Indians on the plains and in the Rocky mountains. He was one of General Custer's noted scouts, escaping massacre by reason of being with the main body at the time of the Little Big Horn battle.

At the request of the Smithsonian Institution he went to Washington, where he interpreted the Indian sign writing on the cliffs on Flat Head lake.

Five years ago Mr. Hamilton published a brief account of his life, called "My Sixty Years on the Plains."

The single automobile on the island of Bermuda is a stage used between St. George and Hamilton, and even that may be legislated out of business by the colonial authorities because of a recent accident in which a lady was killed.

LABORING AGAINST B.G ODDS

Backer of Graft Prosecution in San Francisco Comments on Disagreement of Ruef Jury.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., May 26.—Rudolph Spreckels of San Francisco, who has been the financial backer of the graft prosecution in that city, made a brief address here today, in which he referred to the continuation of the graft prosecution in the following language:

"To assume that the people of San Francisco are discouraged by reason of the mistrial in the Ruef case would be a mistake; on the contrary, the disagreement of the jury in that case has brought to the people a full realization of the tremendous odds against which the graft prosecution is compelled to labor.

"They are brought face to face with the power of a combination of daily and weekly newspapers, who are openly sympathizing with all of the men under indictment, together with that of combined wealth as represented by many of the public service corporations, whose officers and directors are involved in the prosecution, and who have been able to bring about a miscarriage of justice through their willingness and ability to hire men who can be depended upon to go any length to undermine the cause of justice and right.

"I believe the time has come when every self-respecting man must take his stand for right and honesty in business as well as in the enforcement of the laws."

SMITH DEFENDANT IN SUIT

Millionaire Lumberman Is Charged With Unlawfully Acquiring Land.

PORTLAND, Ore., May 26.—To recover 9,280 acres of timber land in Oregon, valued practically at $1,000,000, and now in possession of C. A. Smith, the millionaire lumberman of Minneapolis, Minn., United States District Attorney John McCourt today filed bills of complaint in a suit in equity. The defendants named are Smith, his Portland financial agent, Frederick A. Kribs, and Mealey Bros., who are alleged to have secured dummy entrymen, and the entrymen themselves. Unless the Smith holdings are canceled by June 4, 10 days hence, it is said Smith will have absolute possession.

Women Who Wear Well.

It is astonishing how great a change a few years of married life often make in the appearance and disposition of many women. The freshness, the charm, the brilliance vanish like the bloom from a peach which is rudely handled. The matron is only a dim shadow, a faint echo of the charming maiden. There are two reasons for this change, ignorance and neglect. Few young women appreciate the shock to the system through the change which comes with marriage and motherhood. Many neglect to deal with the unpleasant pelvic drains and weaknesses which too often come with marriage and motherhood, not understanding that this secret drain is robbing the cheek of its freshness and the form of its fairness.

As surely as the general health suffers when there is disturbance of the health of the delicate womanly organs, so surely when these organs are established in health the face and form at once witness to the fact in a manner unmistakable. Nearly a million women have found health and happiness in the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It makes weak women strong and sick women well. Ingredients on label—contains no alcohol or harmful habit-forming drugs. Made wholly of those native, American, medicinal roots highly recommended by leading medical authorities of all the several schools of practice for the cure of woman's peculiar ailments.

For nursing mothers, or for those broken down in health by too frequent bearing of children, also for the expectant mothers, to prepare the system for the coming of baby and making its advent easy and almost painless, there is no medicine quite so good as "Favorite Prescription." It can do no harm in any condition of the system. It is a most potent invigorating tonic and strengthening nervine, admirably adapted to woman's delicate system by a physician of large experience in the treatment of woman's peculiar ailments.

Effectual Stop Put to All Further Efforts at Arbitration in the Cleveland Disagreement.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, May 26.—The street railway strike will proceed, said Vice President Behner of the railway men's union tonight. President Dupont of the Municipal Traction company said the strike is broken.

An effectual stop was put to all further efforts at arbitration today by the declaration of President Dupont that he would arbitrate nothing that might interfere with the men now at work.

Behner also stated that the strike would be continued along the lines of gaining public confidence by means of meetings, some of which have been held. It is contemplated to hold more. The union will devote considerable time to the bringing about of a popular vote upon the franchise, under which the traction company is operating, under the state initiative and referendum law.

President Dupont stated that he would devote this week to clearing up all labor troubles, and next week he would dismiss the whole matter from his mind. Cars are now running on a full schedule in the city, he claimed, and he is ready to operate in the suburbs as soon as the suburbs provide protection.

GUTHRIE, Okla., May 26.—The governor today signed three important bills, one providing for a gross production tax on all profits and products of corporations exercising the right of eminent domain, one providing for an inheritance tax and one providing for a graduated land tax.

How Nature Provides.

Our Beauty, Health and Happiness.

Is it not possible, and altogether probable that elements necessary for the body-health are contained in the medicinal roots found in the earth, digested in the plant laboratory of Nature and made ready for man or animal?

There is a growing belief among scientists that the vegetable kingdom furnishes us with the necessary elements for blood making and to keep that delicate balance of health that the human animal is so apt to disturb by wrong methods of living. Thus we know that we should get the phosphates from the wheat in our bread—or some cereal foods, and iron from certain vegetables, such as spinach and greens.

If there is ill-health then our best method for recovering our standard balance of health is to go to Nature's Laboratory—the plant life which will furnish the remedy.

Buried deep in our forests is the plant known as Golden Seal (Hydrastis) the root of which Edwin M. Hale, M. D., Professor of Materia Medica at Hahnemann Medical College, Chicago, states "In relation to its general effects on the system, there is no medicine in use about which there is such general unanimity of opinion. It is universally regarded as the tonic useful in all debilitated states." Dr. Hale continues: "Prof. John M. Scudder says, 'It stimulates the digestive processes, and increases the assimilation of food. By these means the blood is enriched, and this blood feeds the muscular system.' 'I mention the muscular system because I believe it first feels the increased power imparted by the stimulation of increased nutrition. The consequent improvement on the nervous and glandular systems are natural results.'"

Stillingia or Queen's root is another root which has long been in repute as an alterative (blood purifier) and Prof. John King, M. D., says of it: "An alterative unsurpassed by few, if any other of the known alteratives; most successful in skin and scrofulous affections. Beneficial in bronchial affections—permanently cures bronchitis—relieves irritation—an important cough remedy—coughs of years' standing being cured. Aids in blood-making and nutrition, and may be taken without harm for long periods."

Nearly forty years ago, Dr. R. V. Pierce of Buffalo, N. Y., combined an extract of the two above roots, together with that of Stone root, Black Cherry-bark, Bloodroot, Mandrake and Glycerine—into a prescription which he put up in a ready-to-use form, and called Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It was most successful in correcting and curing such ailments as were due to stomach and liver derangements, followed by impure blood.

In cases of weak stomach, indigestion, dyspepsia, ulceration of stomach or bowels, torpid liver, or biliousness, the "Golden Medical Discovery" has never been excelled as a tonic and invigorator which puts the affected organs "in tune" and enables them to perform their proper functions.

This alterative and tonic is indicated when you have symptoms of headache, backache, in fact "ache all over." When your appetite is gone, tongue furred, bad taste in mouth, foul breath, when you feel weak, tired, blue and discouraged, then is the time to take this natural restorative of Dr. Pierce. "Golden Medical Discovery" is not a secret, or patent medicine, because all its ingredients are printed on the bottle wrapper. It contains no alcohol, or other harmful, habit-forming agents—chemically pure, triple-refined glycerine being used as a solvent and preservative.

A good medical book, written in plain English, and free from technical terms is a valuable work for frequent consultation. Such a work is Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. It's a book of 1008 pages, profusely illustrated. It is given away now, although formerly sold in cloth binding for $1.50. Send 21 cents, in one-cent stamps, to pay for cost of mailing only for paper-covered copy, addressing Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., or 31 cents for an elegantly cloth-bound copy.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. One a laxative, two or three cathartic. Easy to take as candy.

Paris Dispatch to the London Post.

Sir Dyce Duckworth, in his address to the faculty of medicine, said that many persons were constitutionally predisposed to rheumatism and gout, but an important characteristic in such cases was the antagonism of the tissues to the bacilli of tuberculosis. The more rheumatic or gouty a person was the less pronounced was his tendency to consumption.

Manitou News

Greater preparations for handling a large crowd of tourists are being made in Manitou this season than ever before, and the satisfactory manner in which the tourist season is opening appears to warrant the large outlays that are being made by many of the business men. The city is to have five more restaurants this season than last, and all the hotels are better equipped to handle guests than ever before. H. B. Spencer will open a new restaurant on Ruxton avenue near the end of the car line. Mrs. Adelaide Fullerton has remodeled the old Zang place, near the Iron Springs for a restaurant and refreshment place, and A. J. Smith has taken the old Griffiths place and fitted it up in modern style for a refreshment stand and eating house. Mrs. Curl's place on Walker avenue is being remodeled and a new restaurant is being opened by J. B. Lynn on Grand avenue.

The engagement of Miss Selma Kelsey, formerly housekeeper at the Cliff house, and James Andrews, formerly clerk at the Cliff house, but now in one of the Denver hotels, has been announced. The marriage will be held during the first week in June.

The Misses Lilian and Agnes Davis will leave on Monday on a tour of Europe. They will sail from Montreal on the Virginian on June 8 and will remain in Europe several months.

S. B. Repp has bought the residence of R. J. Rudolph in South Manitou. The consideration has not been made public.

The Ladies Aid society will be entertained tomorrow afternoon by Mrs. Mattie Howard on Waltham avenue.

J. M. George of Calcutta, India, who is making a tour of the world, is a guest at the Cliff house.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Murdock of Sydney, Australia, have taken rooms at the Cliff house for the season.

B. M. Shed and wife of Chicago have taken rooms at the Cliff house for the season.

CURE BY CUTICURA AT CITY MISSION

Young Woman Found in Awful Condition with Scabies—Body a Mass of Sores from Scratching—Tried Many Remedies for Seven Weeks—Result Was Discouraging, But

ITCHING TORTURES YIELDED TO CUTICURA

"While I was doing missionary work in the lower portion of several cities I found it necessary to know a little of the efficacy of a few medicines and after a while I found that a little knowledge of Cuticura was about all I needed. One of the very bad cases I had to deal with was that of a young woman who had come to us not only broken in spirit but in a most awful condition physically. Our doctor examined her and told us that she had scabies (the itch), incipient paresis, rheumatism, etc., brought on from exposure and the effects of her ragged-edged life. Her poor body was a mass of sores from scratching and she was not able to retain solid food. We tried many things, a good tonic was prescribed and baths with a rubbing of lard and sulphur. We worked hard for seven weeks and you will all see how discouraged I grew at last, after all that time we could see so little improvement. One day I happened to see a Cuticura advertisement telling how a little baby had been saved of a bad case of skin eruption, and although I had but ninety-seven cents with me I bought a cake of Cuticura Soap and a bottle of Cuticura Ointment. When I reached home I made a bath with a new tub and we bathed the girl all over and gave her a full dose of the Resolvent. She slept that night better than she had since she had been with us and the next day I dressed the girl in a new outfit Cuticura had. I am not exaggerating when I say that in exactly five weeks this young woman was able to look for a position, being strong enough to work and full of ambition. In another month she left the Home and now has a good position in a nice family where she is treated well and is strong and well. You may refer to any one you wish to personally." RESIGNS AND IS REINSTATED

Night Captain John Rowan Leaves Police Force but Is Induced to Return.

Angered by what he believed to be an injustice done him in the police court, Night Captain John Rowan of the Colorado City police department turned in his star to Chief of Police Wolfe on Monday night and resigned from the department. G. W. McDowell, a special officer, was put in his place temporarily and at a special meeting of the city council held secretly last night Rowan was reinstated and induced to return to duty on the police force. He will resume work tonight in his former position as night captain.

The trouble arose over the action of J. D. Faulkner, the police judge, in dismissing the case against A. Owens and wife, proprietors of the Little Virginia restaurant, who were arrested by Rowan on a charge of assault. In the face of what Rowan claims was convincing evidence, the prisoners were acquitted by the court and Rowan in disgust resigned, as he claims that there have been several similar cases in which the acquittal of his prisoners has reflected on his judgment as an officer.

Considerable attention has been attracted in Colorado City by the episode as there is known to be a faction of the city administration opposed to Rowan, but from the action of the city council last night it is evident that his friends are in the majority and that his position as night captain is secure.

BIG STRIKE REPORTED

DISCOVERY MADE ON 800-FOOT LEVEL OF ISABELLA.

Ore Should Give Values From $60 to $100 to the Ton—Very Little Information Obtainable.

Special to The Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, May 27.—There is another big strike just reported, and which has only been made during the past 24 or 48 hours on Isabella ground, on Bull hill. Very little information is obtainable, as for the management itself scarcely knows what has been opened up. According to the little information which is obtainable, the strike has been made at a depth of 800 feet in old Empire State territory, under what is known as the Vidler lease on the Orphan Belt claim. The vein encountered is believed to be a continuation at depth of the celebrated old Maloney vein, which has produced upward of a million dollars or more. The vein encountered by the Isabella management shows with two rounds of shots that the vein is over four feet wide, and that there is any quantity of sylvanite and free gold exposed. The ore ought to give average values of from $60 to $100 in gold to the ton.

The Isabella mine is in better physical condition today than ever in its history. There is ore all over this celebrated property. In the old or Lee workings, from two to three cars per day are being shipped out, and the ore is being mined from the eighth, ninth, tenth and eleventh levels. The average value of the Isabella ore, which is all being consigned to the United States Reduction and Refining company, is running better than two ounces.

The management is now refusing to grant any more leases on any of its territory, and as fast as those now held expire they are not renewed. The Vidler lease on the Orphan Belt is improving very materially as to the grade of ore. During the past week of 10 days, at a depth of 400 feet, a new vein was cut and from assays taken it would appear that the ore will run well up toward $60, while the screenings and the coarse rock will probably run from $25 to $30 per ton.

General Manager Kilborne is now somewhere in the east and is not expected to return until some time in June. While no official information is vouchsafed, yet there is a persistent rumor to the effect that the company, starting in June, will begin making regular dividends.

STRIKE IN OLD GOLD

VEIN THREE FEET WIDE HAS BEEN OPENED UP.

Mulvaney and Associates Are Getting Satisfactory Assays From Ore Recently Discovered.

Special to The Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, May 26.—Although Messrs. Mulvaney and associates took a lease on the Old Gold property on the west slope of Beacon hill less than ten days ago, they have already opened up a vein which is fully three feet in width and from which they get very satisfactory assays. They are now following on the ore and saving it preparatory to making their initial shipment, which will likely go out in the course of a few days. This ore was uncovered at an approximate depth of 400 feet which is just above the water level of the mine.

The west slope of Beacon hill, which for a while was only shipping out a very small amount of ore, has now joined the ranks and is producing a heavy tonnage of ore. This is made possible by the El Paso's heavy shipments and the fact that the Monte Cristo, Henry Adney, Old Gold and other properties have all resumed shipments.

CARSON ISSUES G. A. R. ORDER

Veterans to Honor Memory of Dead on Memorial Day.

The general order providing for the observance of Memorial day by the veterans of Colorado Springs post No. 22, G. A. R., was issued yesterday afternoon by Post Commander G. K. Carson and Adjutant I. H. Burt. The veterans will gather at G. A. R. hall at 9:30 o'clock Saturday morning, and after a parade will take the cars for the cemetery, where an address will be given by the Rev. J. H. Franklin. The order in full follows:

Headquarters Colorado Springs post, No. 22, Department of Colorado and Wyoming G. A. R.

General Order No. 1.

Colorado Springs, May 26, 1908.

Once again, we who are spared, are called upon to honor those who have answered the last long roll call by the usual exercise on Memorial day, May 30. Never have we forgotten the dark days of 45 years ago, when with one accord we responded to the call of our country. How loyally those comrades stood together in history how patiently all the duties attendant upon that awful war were performed many of us still realize.

Remembering the sufferings and sacrifices of us most loyally and with one accord honor the sacred memories of our dead.

Let us unite in asking the assistance of our many friends to participate with us in fittingly decorating the graves of our fallen heroes with wreath and flower.

The post and all veterans will leave the G. A. R. hall at 9:30 o'clock, moving north on Nevada to Platte, thence west to Tejon and south to Pike's Peak avenue where cars will be taken to the cemetery.

The school children are most cordially invited to take places along the line of march with flags, flowers and song. All military and civic organizations are invited to participate with us.

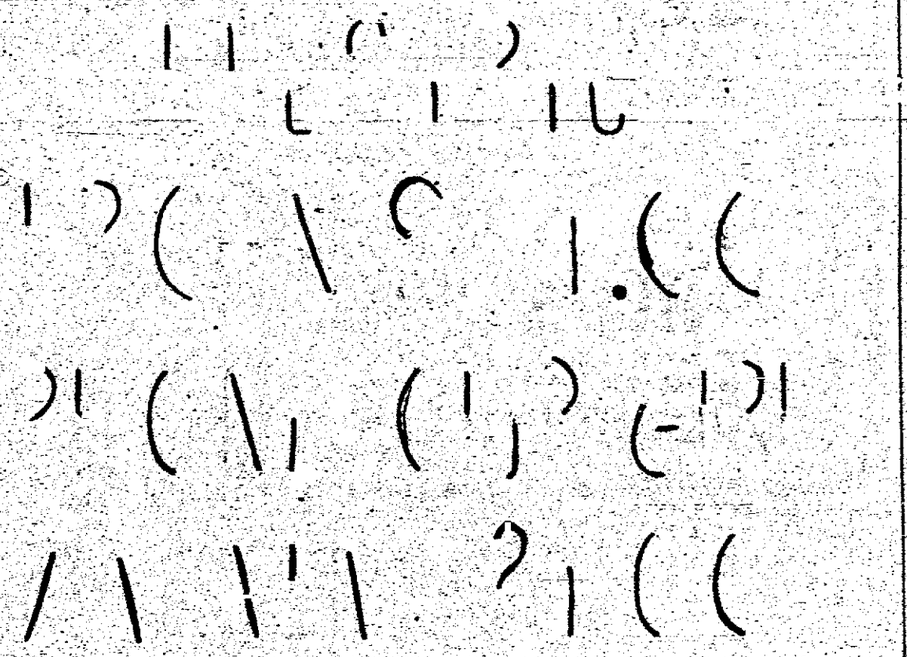

Carriages will be provided for all comrades unable to walk. Following the exercises at the G. A. R. lot, the Rev. James H. Franklin will deliver an address.

Remarkable Hierogram Deciphered!

For eons the following hieroglyphics on the tablet found in an ancient cryt in the Chaldeez have been undecipherable. They were carved by a necromancer of that day famed for his learning. After centuries of research and study the meaning is at last known. It proves to be a formula to eliminate drudgery.

What the Press Agents Say

FINE CHORUS TO BE HEARD TOMORROW NIGHT

Many attempts have been made during the last 10 years to organize and sustain a well-balanced chorus such as a town of this size should easily be able to support. Each attempt has resulted in failure after a season of arduous work, in one case, after two seasons.

The Colorado Springs Musical club has given much time and spent considerable money the last few months in the organization of a chorus worthy of the musical culture for which this city is noted. Every member of the chorus is a good reader of music, has had some vocal training and is a musical enthusiast. The four parts are perfectly balanced.

The director, Dr. Woolsey, commands the respect and confidence of every member of the chorus, for his ability as a leader is fully apparent to all. The promoters believe it is reasonable for them to expect rousing support to be given this painstaking chorus in its concert to be given tomorrow evening at Perkins hall; one which will justify them in maintaining the organization as an important part of the work of the Musical club for the coming season.

The Musical Courier of late date has this from a London paper: "Mme. Albani is to sing the national anthem when the Franco-British exhibition is opened by the Prince of Wales, June 14. The duke of Argyll has written an inaugural ode which has been set to music by Sir C. Villiers Stanford and will be sung by a choir of one thousand voices."

Mr. Stanford, one of the greatest of present-day composers, wrote the music for the unique and beautiful "Phaudrig Crohoore," which will be rendered by the Musical club chorus at the concert tomorrow night. The Dawkins violin quartet, to whom is intrusted the instrumental portion of the concert, has built up a splendid reputation.

DAWSON VIOLIN QUARTET.

From the Denver Post.

The violinist, Regina Hanson, promises to add her name to the increasing list of Denver musicians who have achieved national and even international reputation. As a baby she showed decided talent for music, and as she has grown older her mastery over her chosen instrument, the violin, has increased out of all proportion to the advancing years. When playing in concert, she plays entirely from memory. A concert tour through Colorado a year ago met with most gratifying success. This summer, another tour has added to her reputation.

CHRISTMAS EVE AT THE FAIRYLAND

Manager Braden has secured a dandy film for his souvenir matinee performance. The headliner, which is "Christmas Eve," is alone worth the price of admission, and words can not do it justice. "Peggy's Portrait" is another good one, while "The Lucky Accident" and "Burglars' New Tricks" are direct from the manufacturers and have never been shown to an audience.

The song, "The Bird on Nellie's Hat," is a beauty and sung by Mr. Harry E. Flinn, is sure to make a hit.

This afternoon each lady attending will be presented with a beautiful souvenir, which is something that each lady will appreciate. Ladies and children should turn out in great numbers to see this show, as it is one of the best ever shown in Colorado Springs. Watch the Fairyland ad. for special Memorial day program.

DR. WOOLSEY CONDUCTOR FOR MUSICAL CLUB CHORUS

From the Erie (Pa) Daily Times.

The chorus work was far superior to anything that any traveling company could possibly offer. Dr. Woolsey's conducting was superb, bringing out the best possibilities of both chorus and orchestra.

STOCK TRADING LIGHT

DULLNESS OVERCOMES DEALINGS EARLY IN DAY.

Experimental Attempt to Continue Advance of Previous Day Without Result.

NEW YORK, May 26.—The signal contraction in the volume of the stock market was the most notable feature about it today. Dullness overcame the dealings after the experimental attempt to continue the advance of yesterday. When it became manifest that no important operations were following this rise in prices, it was concluded that the sponsers for the market were satisfied with the protection they had afforded against the acute depression at the end of last week. Their manifest disinclination to follow the advance with buying prompted the late fresh outpouring of stocks.

Some influence was allowed to the sale of Chicago, Burlington & Quincy bonds in causing the early advance in prices. The intention to issue these bonds had not been heard of when the market closed yesterday, and the subscription of $16,000,000 was announced almost as soon as business had commenced. The subscription price was 95½ as compared with the 96 at which Pennsylvania consols 4½ were sold. Modifying conditions in the comparison were the large amount of the total authorized for the new issue, the $300,000,000 being larger than has ever before been authorized by an American railroad, and the lower lien of the Burlington bonds. The difference was indicated in the price at which the new bonds were sold, "when issued" on the curb, the first sale at 99 being subsequently shaded to below 97, while in the case of the Pennsylvania bonds, par was reached before the subscriptions were closed. The quick sale of the offerings and the prices realized for it were judged by bond men to represent an improvement over the bond market position as compared with the Pennsylvania sales. The reductions drawn from the incident were considered important. A free supply of capital for fixed investment was inferred, and, on the whole, at improved terms for the borrowers.

This insurance of a supply of funds makes for revival in demand for commodities for which the funds will be expended. It was assumed that the sale would improve the prospect for the Union Pacific financing, which it is supposed is now awaiting the adjustment of a difference as to terms between the company and the underwriters. There are plenty of financial plans dependent in a betterment in the investment demand, so that symptoms of that are regarded with interest. The stated purpose of the Burlington issue, to reimburse the company's treasury for outlays already made for betterments and additions, would help to explain the persistence of reports of an extra distribution of Northern Pacific and Great Northern stocks as these companies would profit as Burlington stockholders. While this incident was thus given a favorable interpretation, it proved powerless to renew the upward movement of stock prices. Rather it was taken advantage of to resume the selling to take profits as was the growing tendency on favorable news announcements last week. London was a free seller of stocks here early in the day. Reports of flood damage and the sensitiveness of the commodities markets and the crop news were not regarded favorably. Declines in discount rates in London and Berlin marked the decreasing force of the probable demand for gold in New York. At the same time, the western money market reported a gradual change in the course of the currency movement, which marks the approach of the crop-moving season. Any further decline in interest rates here seems to be arrested, although there is no positive rise in rates yet to record. The late break in prices was a direct response to the contrary movement in the price of wheat.

Bonds were irregular. Total sales, par value, $2,298,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

RICH STRIKE IS MADE

FIND ON SOUTH END OF THE CLARA D. CLAIM.

Three Feet of Ore Opened Which Gives Assays Clear Across Vein of 41 Ounces.

Special to The Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, May 26.—Johnson, Birdsell and Erickson, lessees who took a lease a short time ago on the south end of the Clara D. claim of the Lexington company, have made a very rich strike on this well known Gold hill property. At a depth of 250 feet they have opened up three feet of ore which gives assays clear across the vein of 41 ounces, which is equivalent to $820 a ton. They are sacking all of the ore preparatory to making a shipment.

Several years ago a Mr. Kirk took out upwards of $100,000 from this claim, and it is believed that the present operators have recovered the lost shoot.

Ivor Weston, who is working on the north end of this claim, is now shipping out a car of ore a day, and he is getting values of about $18 in gold to the ton. He has a good-sized vein and has opened it up for a considerable distance on the 400-foot level.

On the Jeff Davis claim, which is part of the Lexington company, the Coilnois Leasing company, which is composed of Chicago and Salida people, is sinking a shaft with a view of cutting one of the numerous veins which are known to traverse this section.

REGULAR SHIPMENTS MADE

Deadwood Claim Is Yielding Steady Returns to Fitts Company.

Special to The Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, May 26.—W. H. Fitts and company, operating on the Deadwood claim of the Stratton estate on the crest of Globe hill, are shipping out several cars of ore a week. The ore is being mined in two different places. In the big cut which was shipped without sorting and which was gouged out from the surface by road scrapers, there is some ore being mined. The heaviest tonnage, however, is being mined from the shaft. There are no well-defined veins, the ore being found in big bunches or kidneys. The ore gives returns ranging from $25 to $40 in gold to the ton.

There is any quantity of low-grade oxidized ore to be found on this property, which will give average values of about $10 in gold to the ton, but the executors of the Stratton estate refuse to allow any milling grade ore to be handled by lessees.

GRAIN MARKET STRONG

CORN FOR MAY DELIVERY ADVANCES 5 3-8C.

Wheat for July Delivery Was Up 1-3-8c. Oats and Provisions Higher—Damage Reports.

CHICAGO, May 26.—All grain markets were strong today on excited covering by shorts, corn for May delivery leading the list with an advance of 5⅜c, compared with the low points of the day. At the close May corn showed a net gain of 4⅛c; wheat for July delivery was up 1⅜@1½c; corn was 2@2¼c higher; oats were up ¼@⅜c; provisions were 7½ to 17½c higher.

The wheat market opened weak because of the failure of the market at Liverpool to respond to yesterday's advance here. During the first half of the session the market was nervous and moved easily in either way. Toward the middle of the day, however, shorts began to buy freely and the market was strong from that time until the close. Dry weather in Hungary, small receipts in the northwest, a decrease of 2,145,000 bushels in the visible supply and aditional reports of damage by drouth in Kansas were the principal reasons for the strength. The market closed strong. July opened ⅛@¼c to ⅛@⅜c lower, at 90⅜ to 90⅞, sold to 90⅜ and then advanced to 92⅛. The close was at 92⅛. May ranged between $1.02⅜ and $1.06 and closed at $1.04⅜. Clearances of wheat and flour were equal to 192,000 bushels.

Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 247 cars, against 301 cars last week and 421 cars one year ago.

An advance of 5⅜c in the price of May delivery was the feature of trading in the corn market. Other options sold from 2⅛@⅜ to 2⅞ above the low point of the day. The sharp upturn was due to continued wet weather in the corn belt, and a forecast of more rain tomorrow in several sections. Bull leaders were moderate buyers, and this caused a lively scramble among shorts for what little offerings were put on the market. The strength developed during the first half hour and continued unabated for the remainder of the day. The close was strong. July opened ⅛ to ¼c lower, at 66 to 66⅛c, advanced to 67⅞ and closed at 66⅞@67⅛. May opened at 74½, sold off to 73½, and then advanced to 78⅞c, where it closed. Local receipts were 140 cars, with 155 of contract grade.

Oats were firm in sympathy with wheat and corn. July opened a shade lower, at 47¼, sold off to 47⅛@¼, and then advanced to 47⅞. The close was at 45⅞. Local receipts were 222 cars.

Provisions were firm because of the strength of grain. The market was fairly active on good demand from shorts and commission houses. At the close, July pork was up 17½c, at $13.75. Lard was 12c higher, at $8.65. Ribs were 7½c higher, at $7.42½.

Shields' Mince Meat

Two large pies Ten Cents. Add water, cook twenty minutes, ready for pie crust. Ain't that easy?

It is difficult for the housewife to make good mince meat always. There are so many ingredients and she puts these ingredients together so seldom, that she forgets the quantities and proportions and even sometimes forgets some of the ingredients. With a manufacturer who is making mince meat every day, his work becomes uniform and expert. Hence, Shields' Mince Meat is better than homemade.
